HORNELL SENIC

R HIGH SCHOOL

Dar,
There so much to say. I really don't know where to start, but how about wishing my favorite guy the success & happiness in the future-you might need it!! We had lots of fun these past two months, even if we didn't quite make it to Canada - (or Alaska!!) Don't ever forget the fun we've had at the Arm - like, Patriot, etc. And the time we went to Bernie & Joanne's to get Castle!! How about the "Pandora" I guess now we know Joanne's not into Castle either!! Was at the first time we and don't forget the Friday nite (or maybe you should delivered me at pool - I guess we're not treated us to to greet us! and ping pong yet!! I really course there's we went to Castle to get my parents stand in the world of Bernie's!! Thx. Gd lovely little nite at that little thing understanding about that stupid little boy in the you forget that place and all the card-playing room upstairs up on the roof - the secret room!! Yd of course back room that unlocks a again!! (Ha! Ha!) old will pane snap over & over & over I don't treated you the
I shot you at pool - and ping pong maybe things will go
Just like that - rotten I know I can't Castle down completely along a little smoother now, but I can't at heart!! maybe that we Not quite yet!! I really hope, however, that we can continue to have lots of fun together but if you have your way, I guess we will!! Ok - up-the-way - I hope
You DO get that "Pig Chevy" of yours on the road Dear. Seriously, honey, be good and take care of yourself!! Don't get into too much trouble - save some for me!!
Yd Bless you Always.
Love,

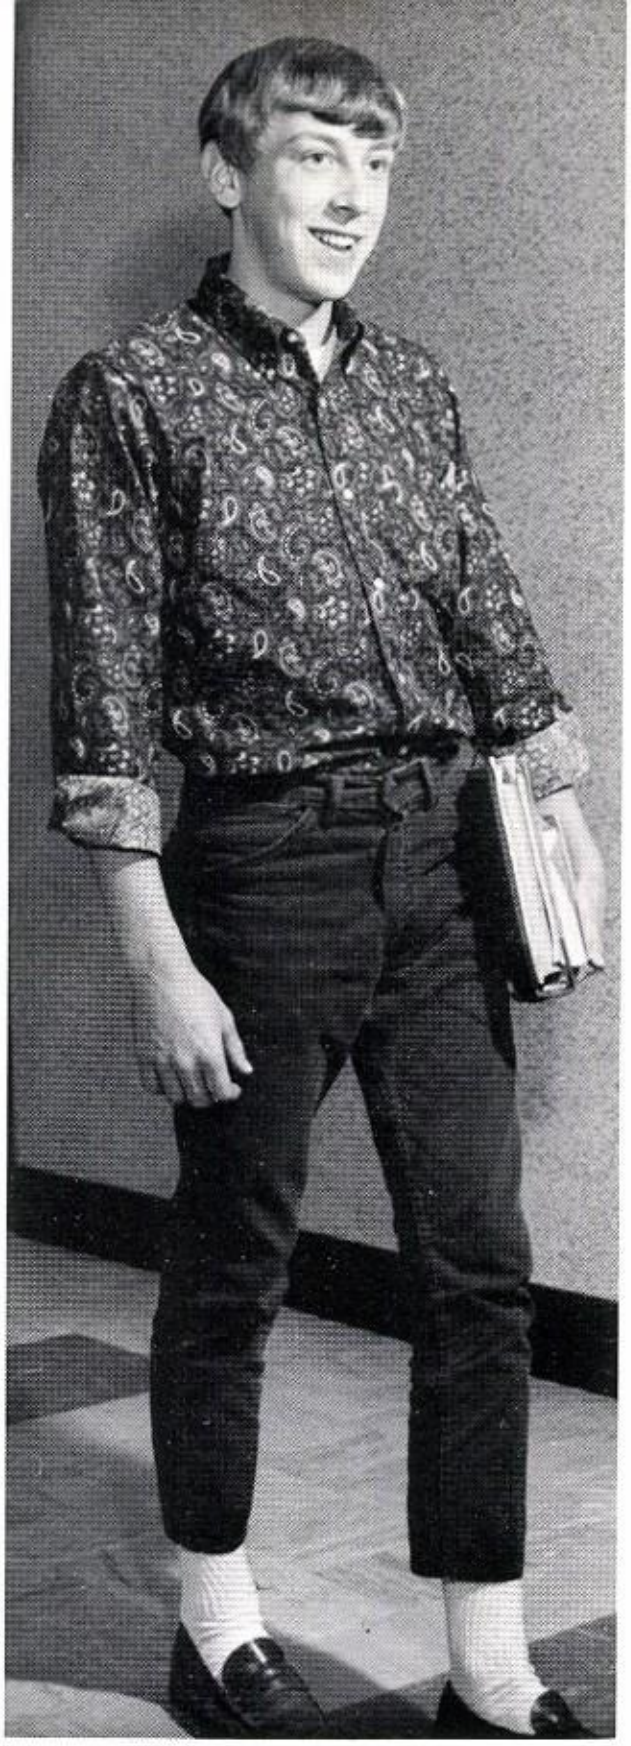
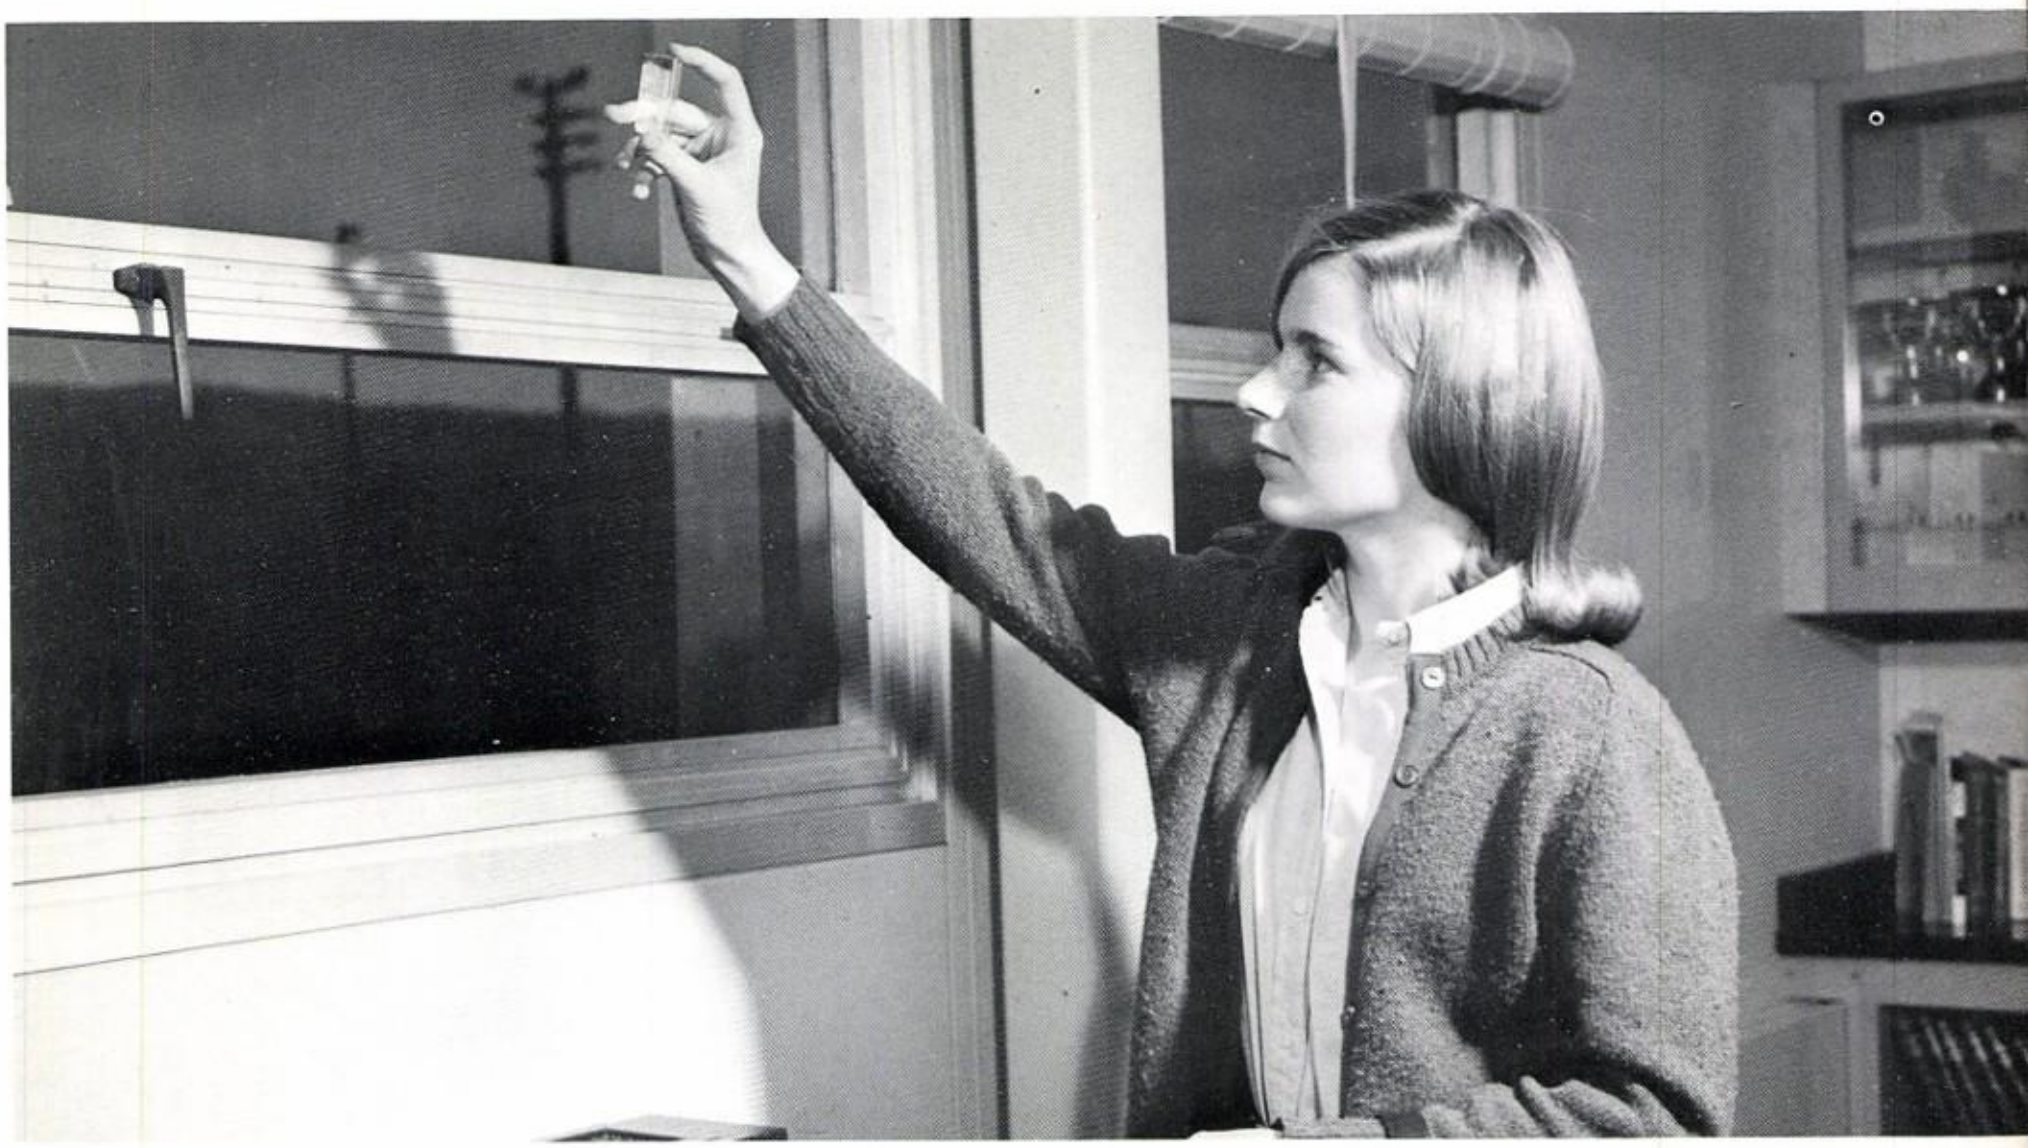
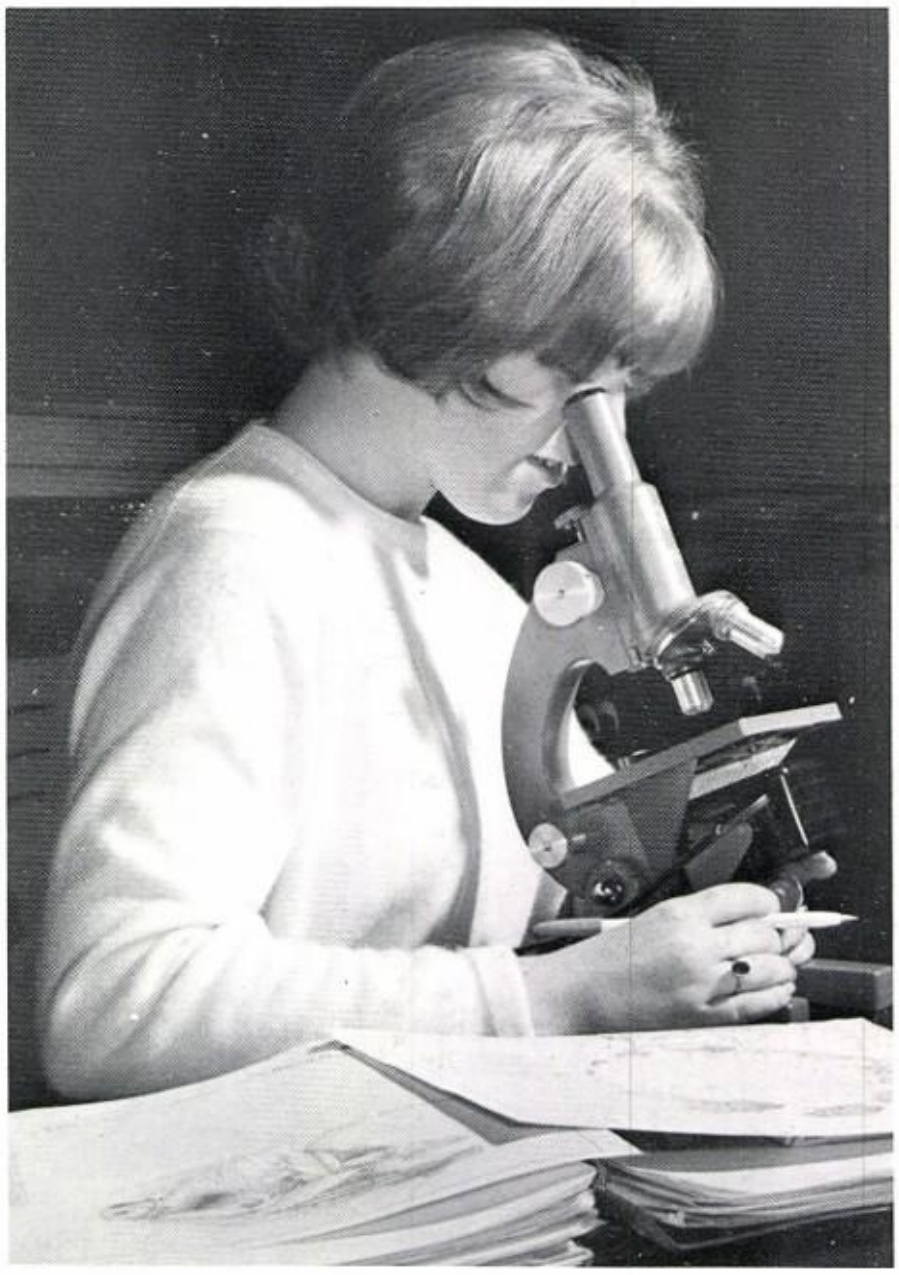
Climb

Every



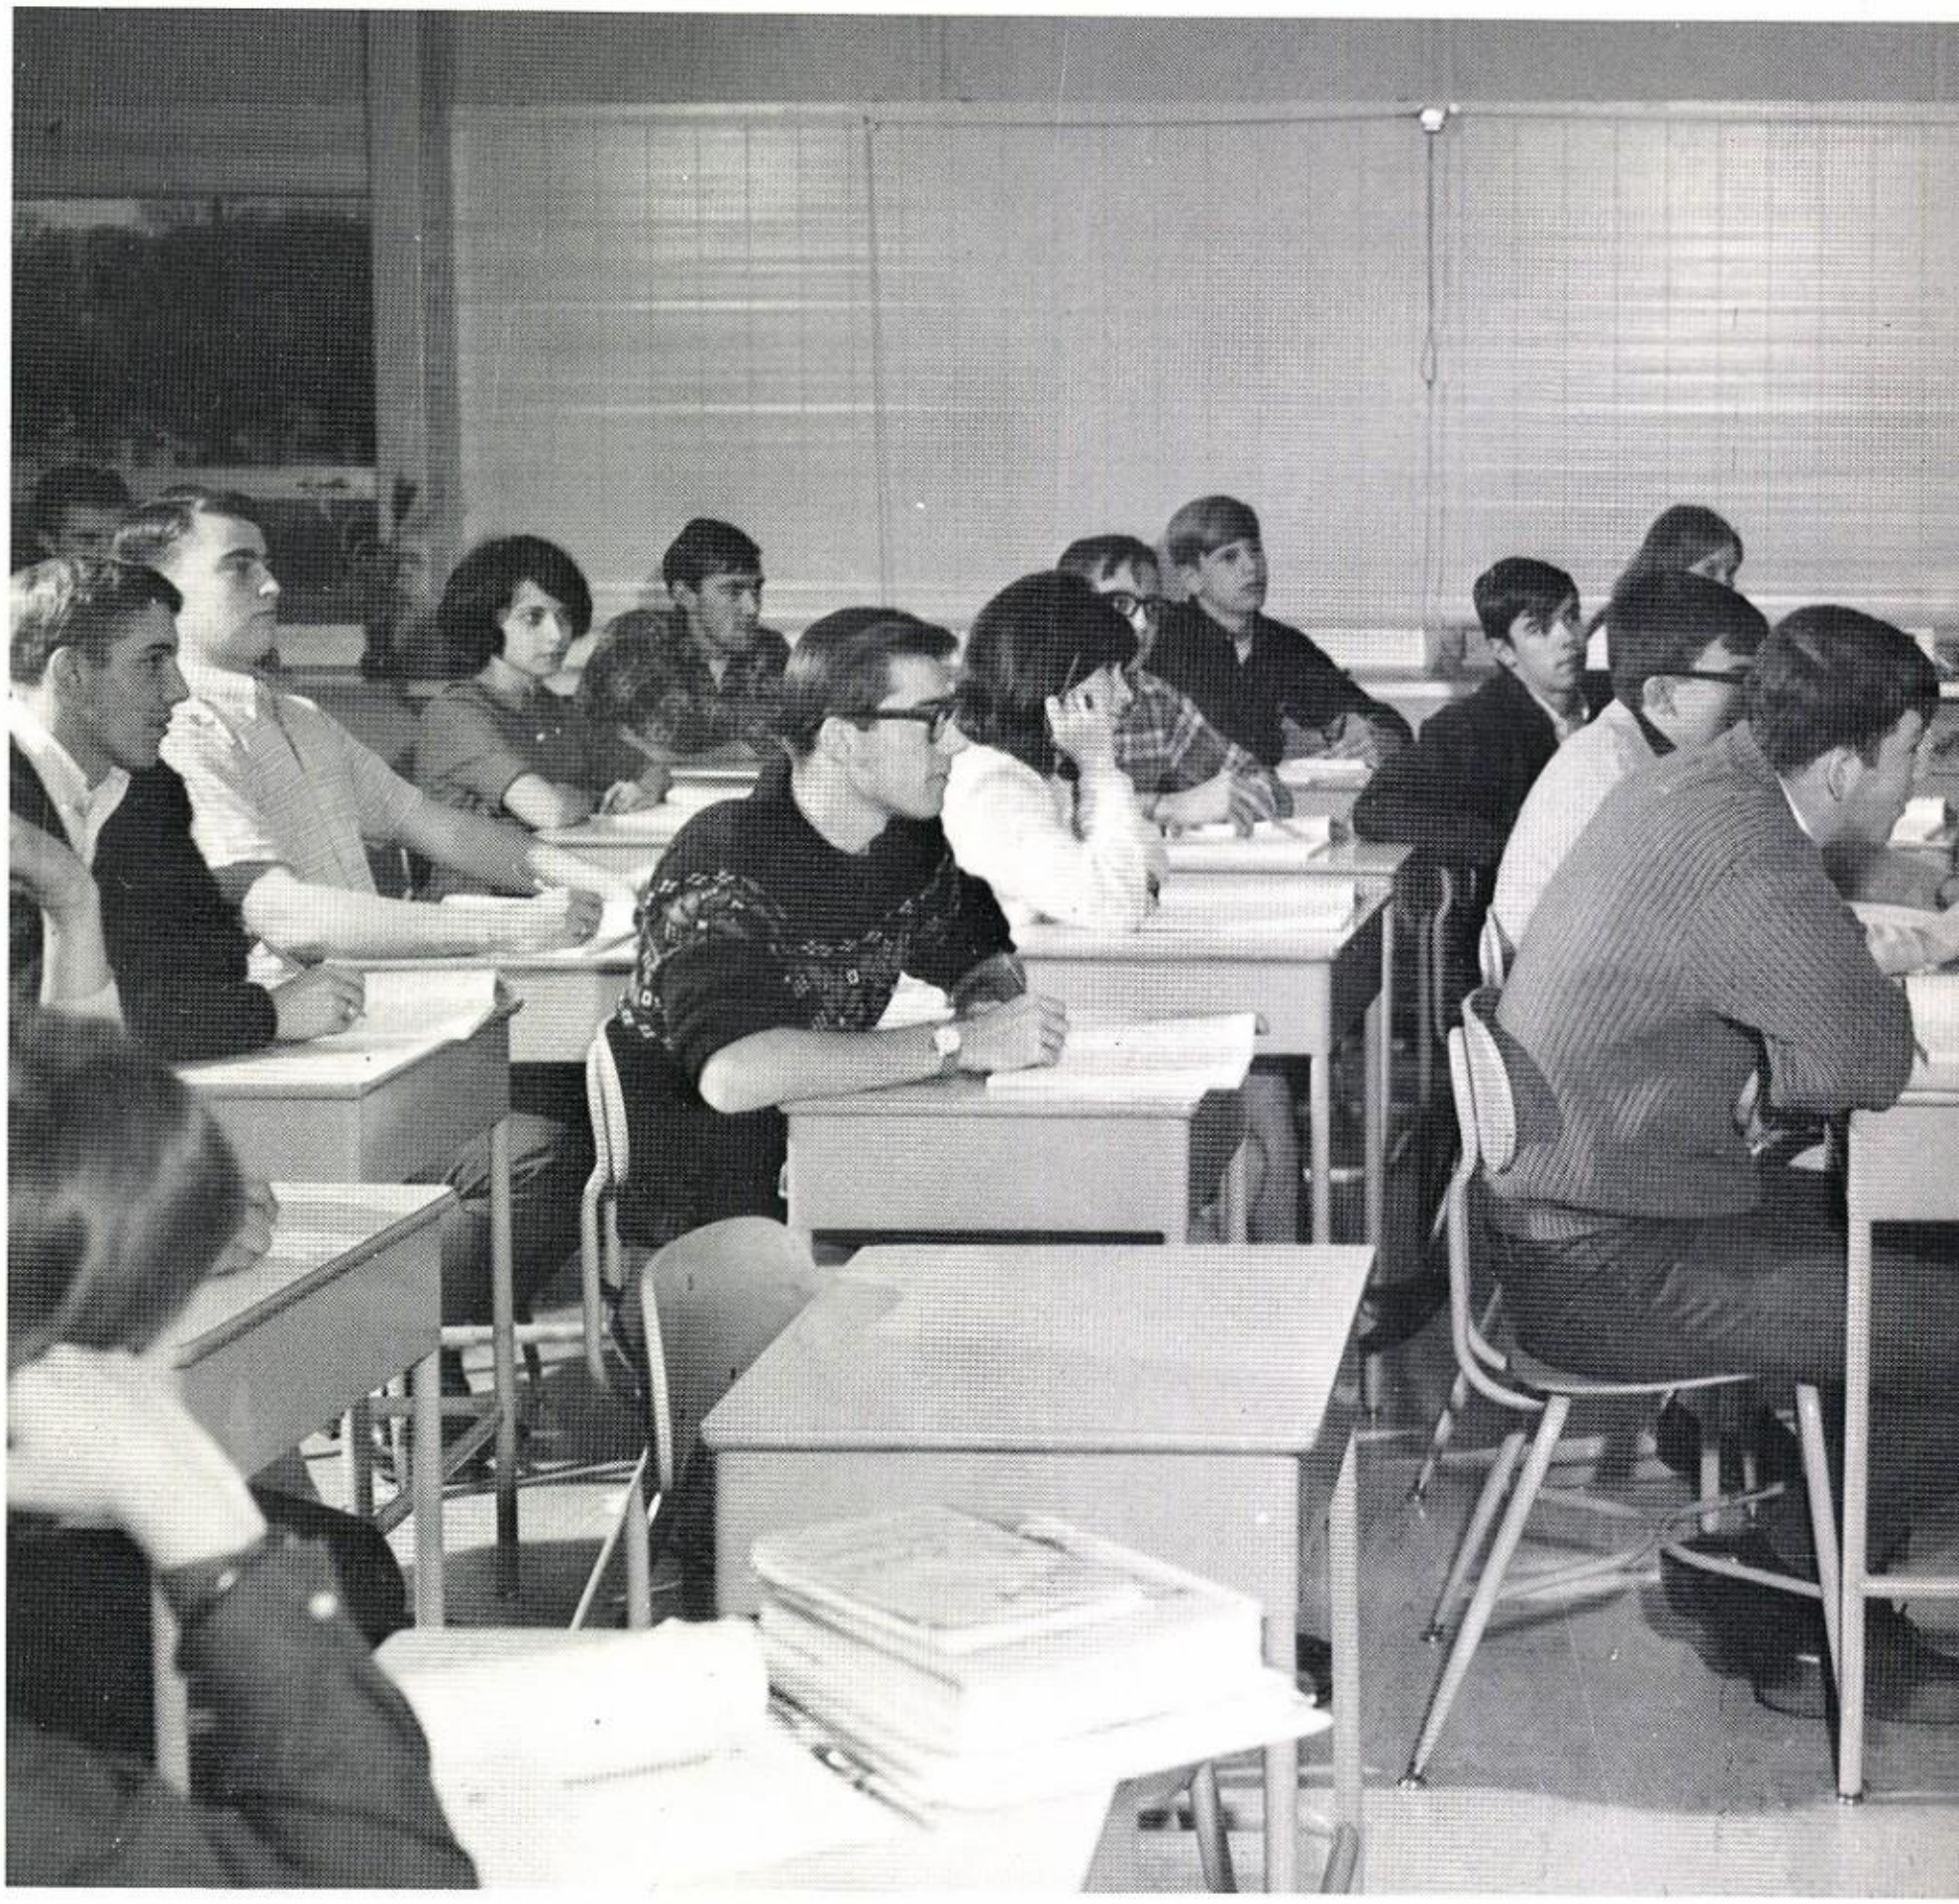
Mountain . . .





Search high
And low;

All of us must climb every mountain whether it be our remaining years of high school, further education or the adult world. Sometimes the path will be steep and hidden. Sometimes we'll miss a step, but we must climb on for by climbing the foothills we shall reach the pinnacle. We must also search; looking both ways high and low.



Follow every Byway; Every Path you know.

The man who walks down but one road sees only that road and is enclosed by the narrow confines of his path. The man who walks down many roads sees many sights and the boundaries of his life are much greater for the many paths have revealed truths that one road cannot.

The first man knows his road well and this knowledge, he believes, makes him a knower of all. The traveler of many roads knows only parts and pieces of his roads and realizes the many parts and pieces which he has not explored.

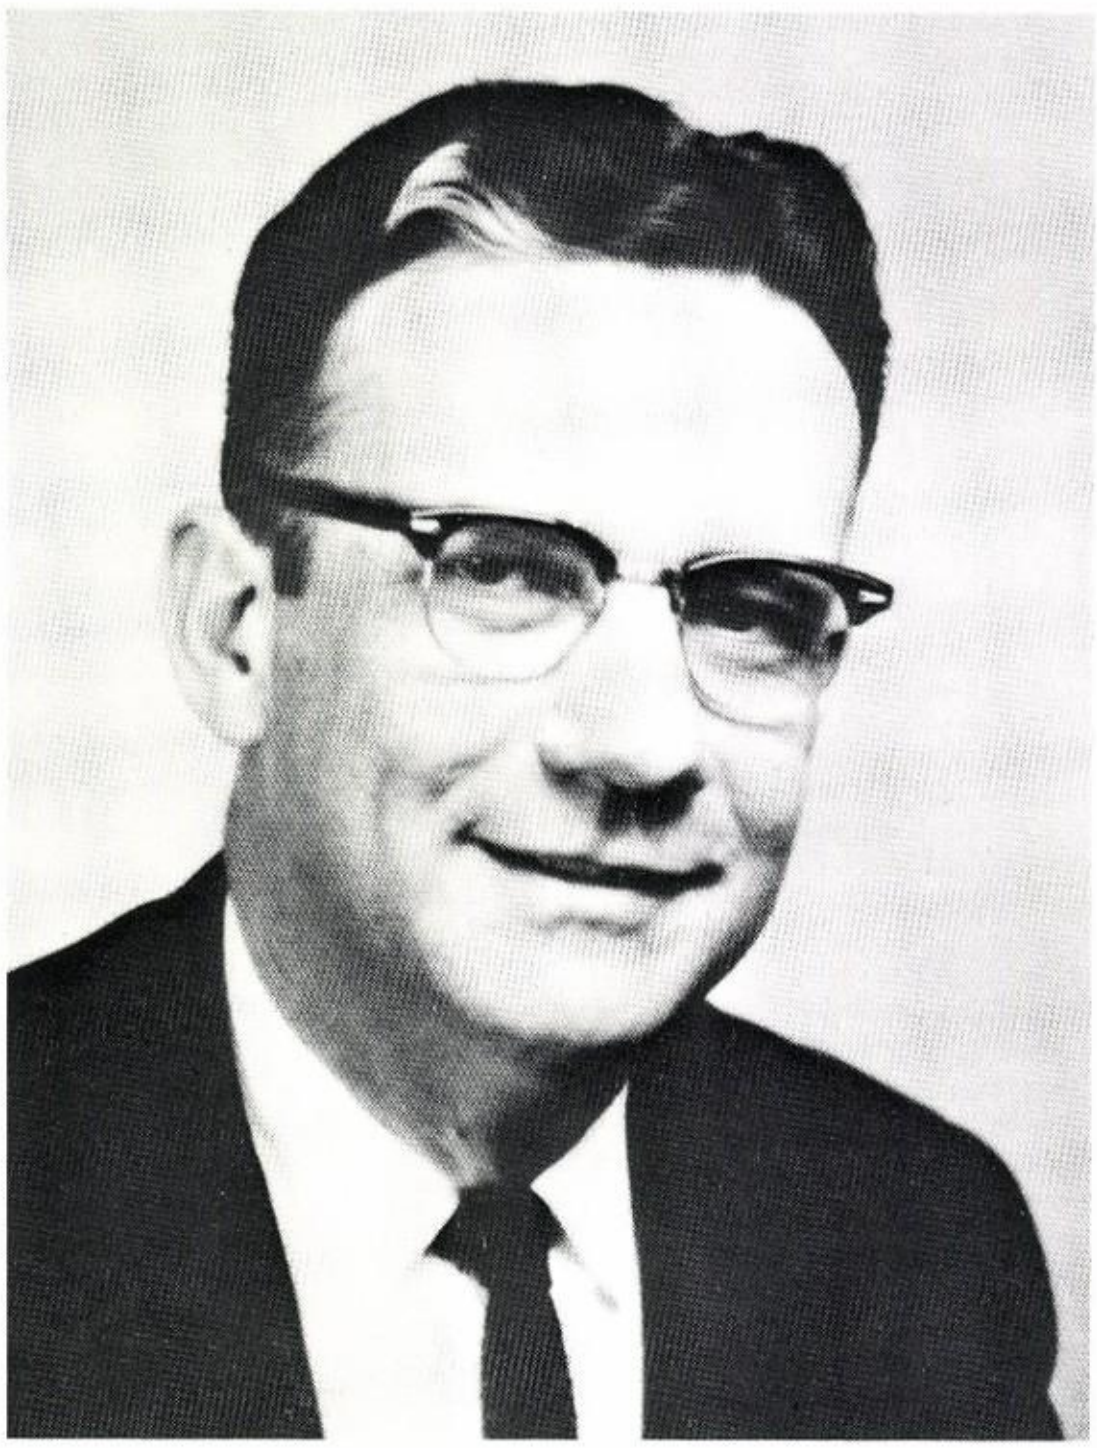
Don't confine yourself to one road by dare to explore music, art, literature, science, skills or other talents for your life will be all the richer for having done it.

Dedication



Mr. William Lundrigan

There is much that one can learn in this world . . . most important are the truths of life itself.

Formula and facts fade with time but life goes on.

All teachers teach facts and figures . . . some also teach the vital truths of life.

They may be taught by the living example of the man himself . . . they may be taught with humor . . . but regardless of the method, they somehow are remembered and revered.

The realization of these truths and an appreciation of the man who taught them may come slowly . . . but they come with a great deal of certainty.

William Lundrigan was one of those teachers who will be remembered and loved long after the facts and figures have been forgotten.

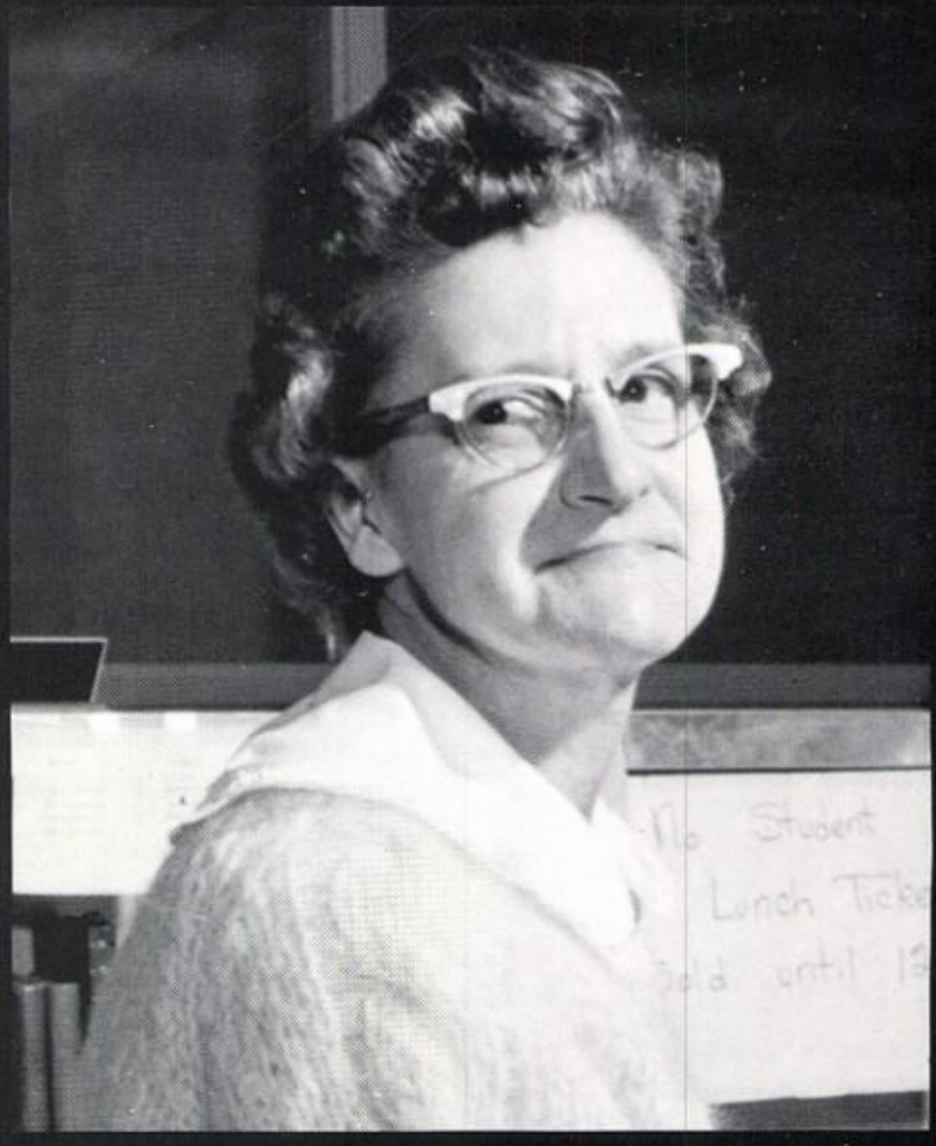
Appreciation . . .

If there is one thing that is appreciated, especially in school, it is the sight of a smiling face; and if the same person can help solve problems, so much the better. We have such a person in Hornell High and at one time or another, almost everyone has turned to her for help. We of the Maple Leaf are especially grateful for all the help and humor that Miss Eleanor FitzGerald has given to us.

There are some jobs which are never fully appreciated unless they are left undone. Mr. Spencer has one of these jobs and thanks to him we have a school to be proud of. Besides doing his regular job, though, he can always be found setting up tables for bake-sales or unlocking the door to the Maple Leaf room.

Even being sent to the principal's office is not an entirely unhappy experience. For in the front office behind the counter, you will undoubtedly find Mrs. Esther Perry. The Maple Leaf, as well as the rest of the school appreciates her willingness to stop what she is doing and sell a lunch ticket, find a telephone number or answer a query about a lost purse.

Looking back at the 1967 Maple Leaf, few will realize the important role of our advisor, Mr. Kevin Doran. In fact, even few staff members will fully appreciate his part in the production of the yearbook, because he has been an advisor, not a director. We can truthfully say that our yearbook is our own work; yet none of it would have been possible without the help and advice of Mr. Doran.



A yearbook, to most people, is an elaborate cover and too few pictures of themselves, but we hope that this yearbook will mean a little more to you. We've made a lot of changes in this year's book, put a lot of thought into it, and worked many hours, to make what we hope is a fair representation of this year in H.H.S. We hope that it will be enjoyed now, and treasured in years to come; for it is not our yearbook, but yours. This book would not have been possible without the help of our staff and our advisor, Mr. Kevin P. Doran.

Hornell possesses one of the area's most progressive school systems. All school buildings are new or have had new additions within the past five years. In January, voters gave the board a vote of confidence by okaying a bond issue to supply funds for renovating the Junior High School.

We have a school that we can be proud of, and much of the credit goes to the superintendent and his assistant and to the members of the board. The five board members, who all have other jobs and families, meet twice a month from seven o'clock until the early hours of the morning, to make H.H.S. a better place to learn.

Running a school

There are many people who are necessary to keep a school running smoothly and efficiently. Some of these are well-known, while others work behind the scenes. Everyone realizes the important role of the principal in the administration of a school, and we are most fortunate in having Mr. Johnson. Students also appreciate the work of our guidance counselors, Miss Dickinson and Mr. Guinane.

However, not very many will realize the importance of the work of our cafeteria help, the janitors and secretaries. Yet they along with Mr. Johnson, Miss Dickinson, and Mr. Guinane make H.H.S. a better place in which to teach and learn.

The ability to communicate is the

No matter how successful a scientist is, if he cannot communicate his ideas to others, he will never become great. Therefore, the need for a thorough knowledge of English is evident in our world today. Serving to aid our own development of style, a new reading program was initiated last year which included classics as well as modern novels. The English department also arranged several field trips to make the Shakespearean stage come alive for the students. In October, thirty students made the 150 mile trip to Stratford-on-Avon in Canada to attend a Shakespearean festival. In November, a second field trip was taken to the State University College at Geneseo to see the "Tempest."

mark of a civilized man.

This year, with arrival of exchange students from other lands, and the combined efforts of teachers and students, interest has been generated in foreign languages. Clubs have been formed in each of the three languages offered, and all have been active in increasing the students' interest in the language they are studying.

Languages change with the times, and, likewise, the language department has undergone several changes. Besides the addition of a new German teacher, more speaking of modern languages has been stressed. The A. L. M. method, introduced several years ago, tries to help a student learn the language as he learned English, hearing it, learning the meaning of what he's saying, and then writing it. Certainly, part of the problem of countries misunderstanding each other has its basis in language differences. Once this barrier is broken down understanding will increase.

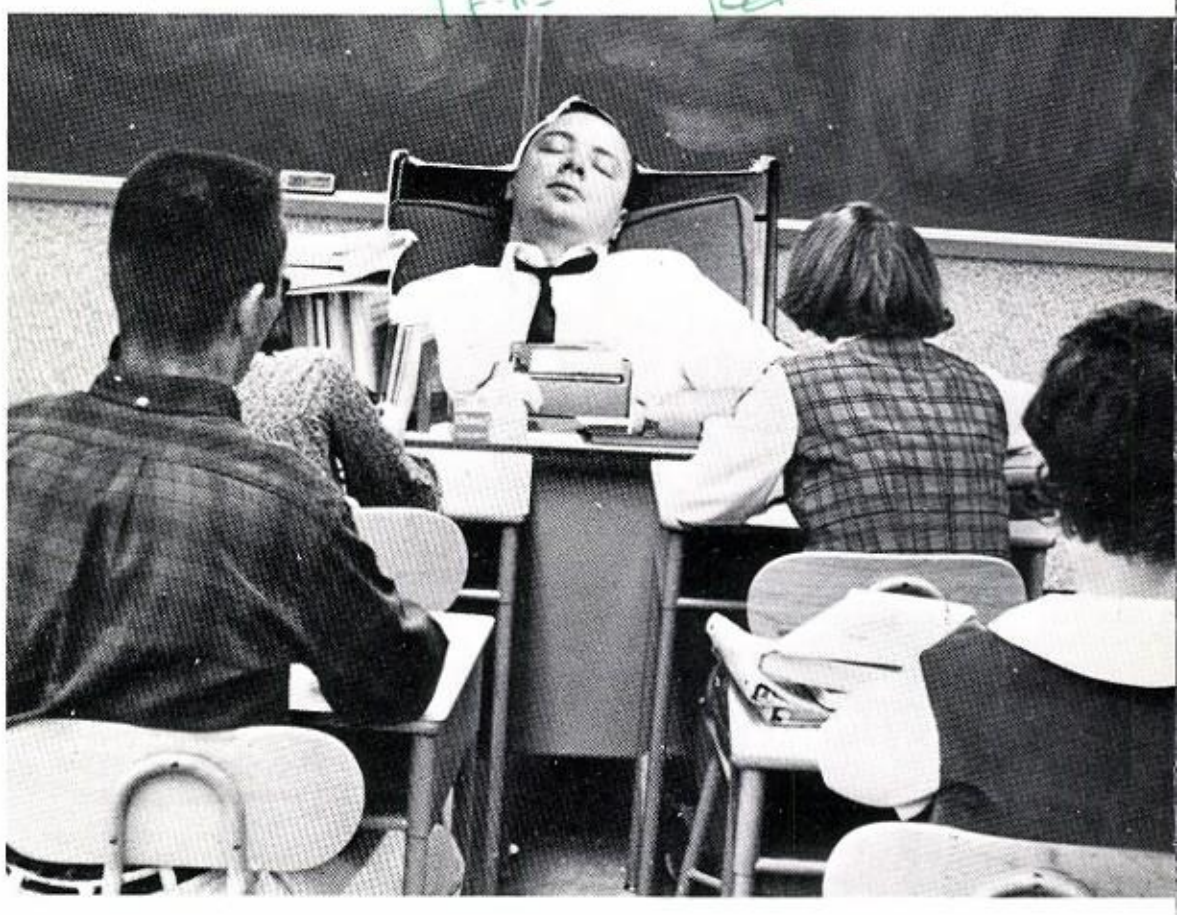
Unfortunately I didn't get much chance to sleep with Lynn
H.R. Kd



Teaching is a very tiring profession.

Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it.

History is one of those subjects that seems to make students ask: why am I studying this? This question is one of those questions that cannot be answered sufficiently until a person must form his own political convictions. History is also one of those subjects that seems to remain relatively the same—changing only as the times themselves change, but this year the history department underwent a complete change in the syllabus which stressed the application of past history to the present.

Now the emphasis is on concepts and understanding rather than factual material. Use of pamphlets, papers and other source material is stressed rather than straight textbook learning.

Math is no longer just a matter of knowing processes. Today all this is done by computers. In our modern world the emphasis is more and more on original thinking. Man must learn how to think or he is no better than a computer. To this end, the teachers of our Math Department are stressing reasoning and thinking, taught through the tool of math.

Science is growing more and more complex. Today's expanding technology requires that students become more and more proficient in science. To meet the demands for heavier reliance on math and for more emphasis on the use of knowledge, the State is issuing a new syllabus next year.

The Humanities help us to understand each other and to express ourselves creatively. Mr. Hoover and his band have presented a number of fine programs both at the football games and at concerts. Miss Sanford's classes put on several plays for the student body. She also directed the Senior Play. The art classes, under the guidance of Mrs. VanOrsdale, have kept our school gaily decorated throughout the year. Mr. Besig and his choir have put on a number of fine shows. Both Mr. Besig and Miss Sanford were new to the school this year and our enthusiasm in welcoming them is excelled only by the enthusiasm they have instilled in their students.

Gym class is the time to let go a little.

The purpose of education is not only to strengthen the mind but to build the body as well. Students are able to use the many modern facilities, and they take advantage of warm weather by playing soccer, softball, and football on the field adjoining the gymnasium. Hornell High School has physical education of which it can be proud.

There is also periodic health care. The school doctor and the dental hygenist both conduct annual check-ups. This year students were able to receive a free Sabin polio vaccine if they desired it.

are a part of the complete man.

Each year these teachers train their students in a variety of specialized skills which are necessary in today's advanced world. If man is to better his world, it will be through the application of these skills. The students who have been taught by these teachers will go on to become the skilled working force that is the basis of our society. Even if the students aren't specializing in one of these fields, nevertheless, the courses they take will be useful to them in their everyday life.

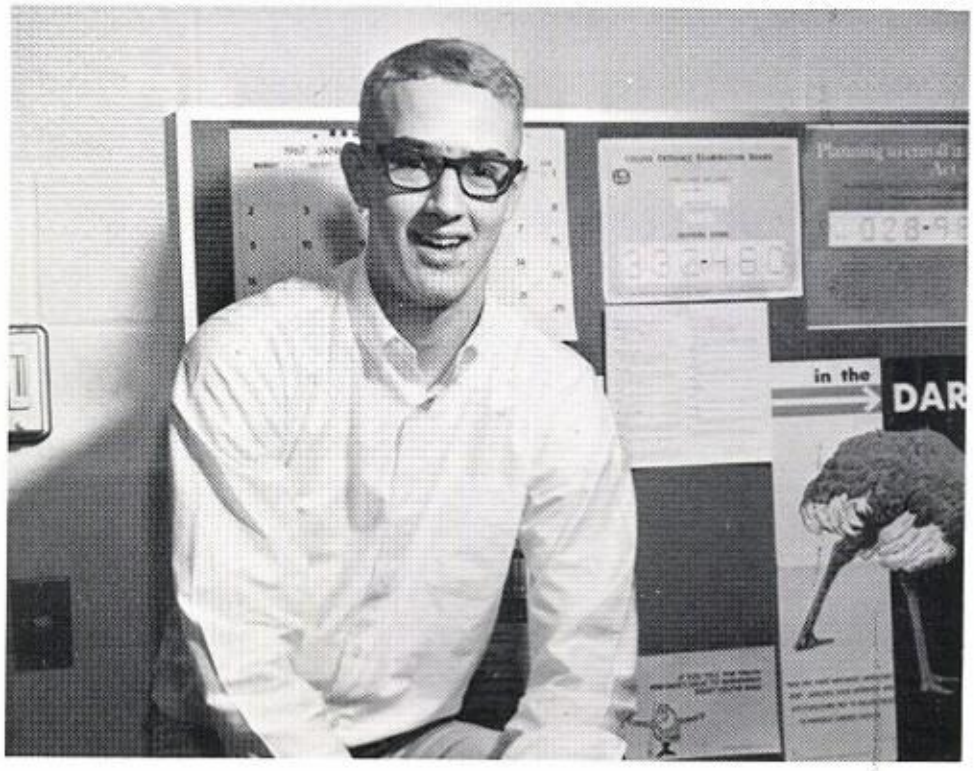
Leaders of the Senior Class

A year is remembered by its senior class. From first in the magazine sale to the loudest at pep rallies, the seniors will be much remembered. Seniors are the "big wheels" of the school and for this reason, success or failure of a school undertaking usually rests upon the spirit of the year's seniors. This spirit was never lacking in the class of '67. They were well led by Dave Hagadorn, Gary Hammond, Kev McLaughlin and Margaret Crosby, and had the excellent guidance of their advisors, Mr. Koehler, Miss Schurr, Mrs. Carney and Mrs. Fennelly.

Dave Hagadorn — President

Kev McLaughlin — Treasurer

Margaret Crosby — Secretary

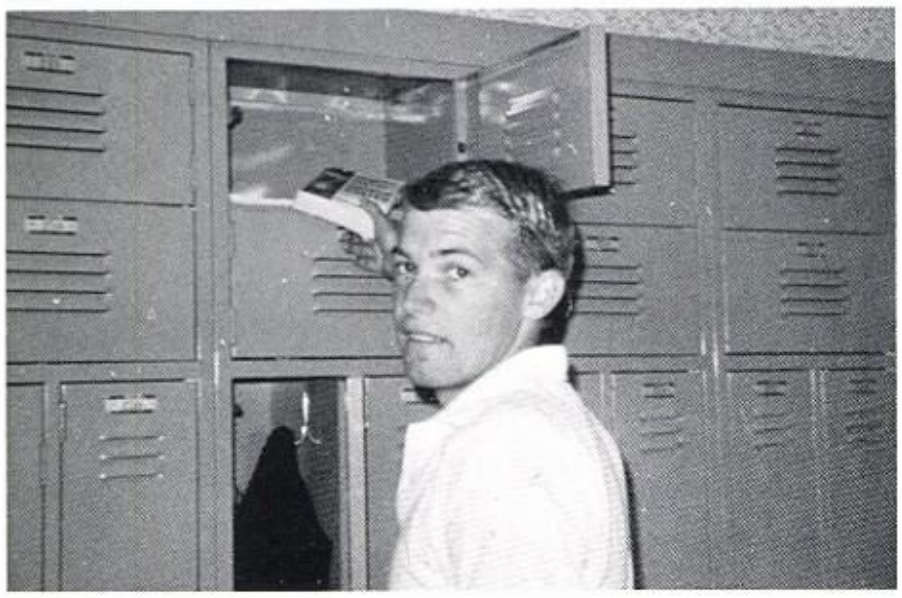


Gary Hammond — Vice President

Sleeping Beauties??

The Senior year is a time for serious study.

When a girl is in the top ten, she has influence.

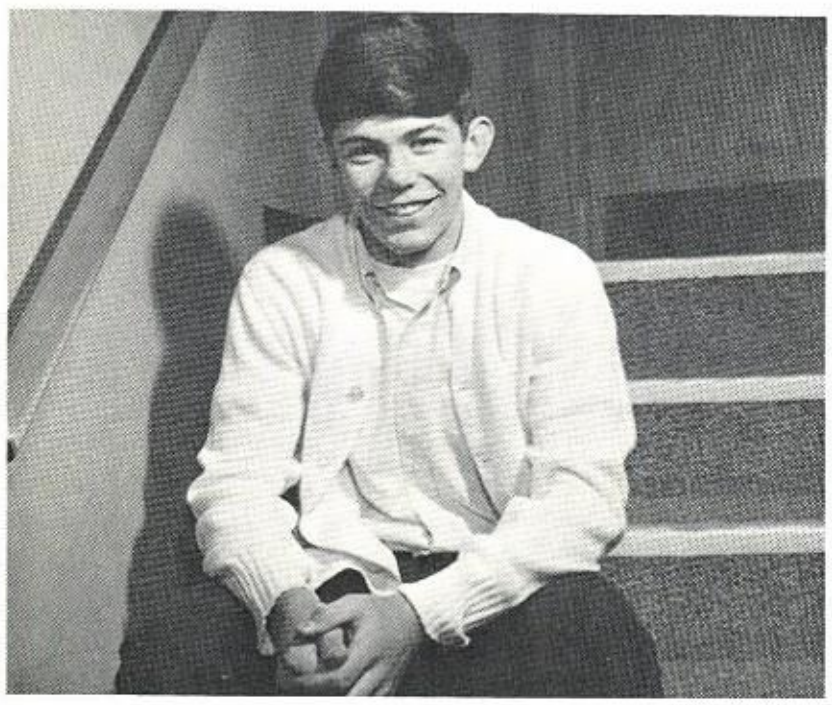


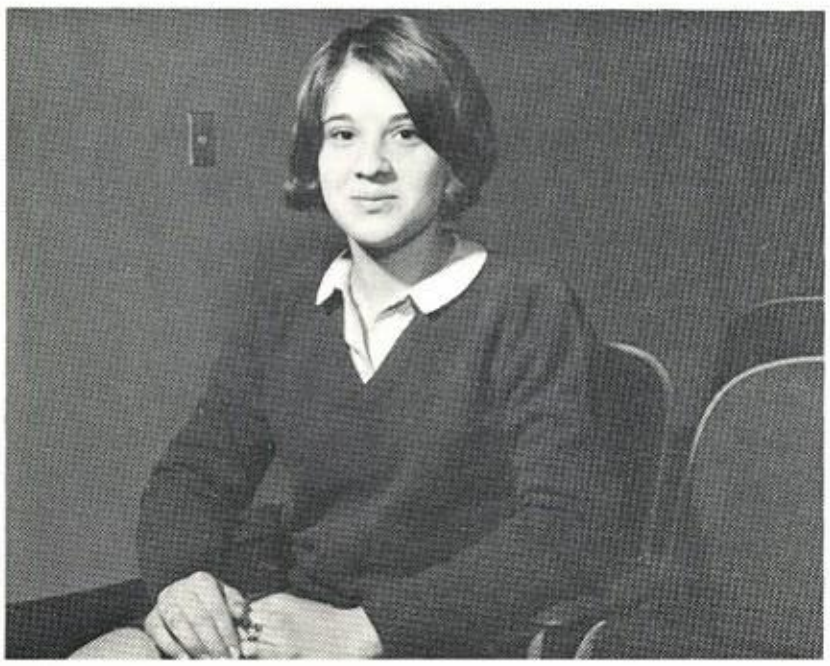
Aw come on Mr. Peltz. Let me go to my locker, just this once.

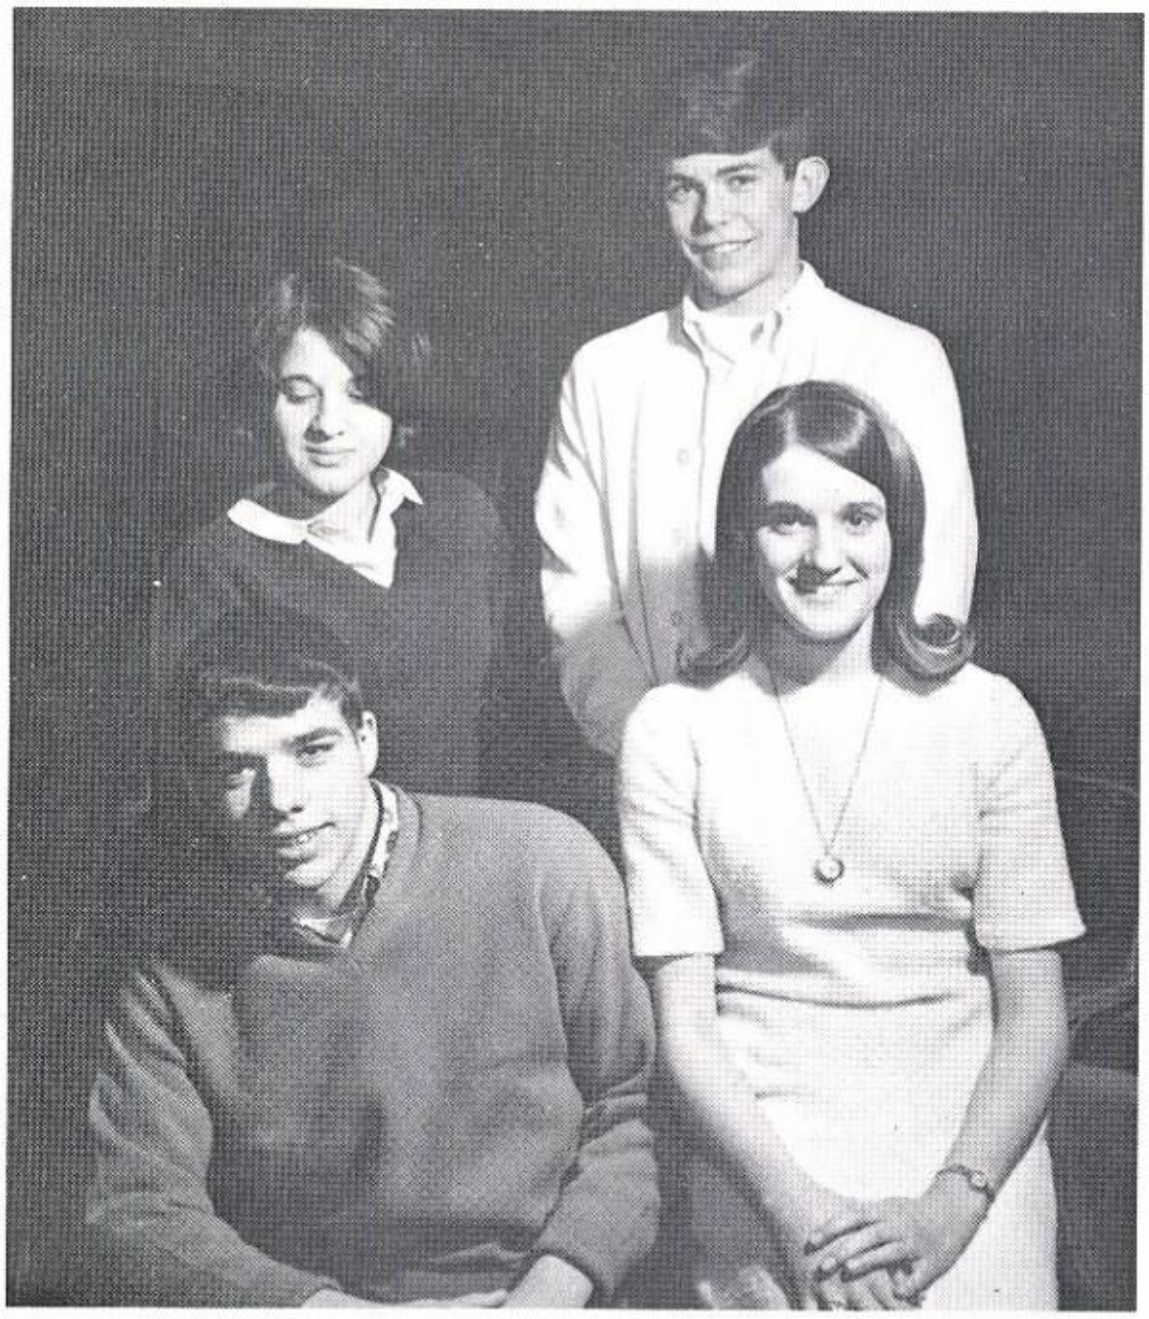
Just a few more minutes and this batch of grapes will be done.

I know you aren't supposed to try new hair styles for your Senior Portrait but . . .

Get away from me with that mistletoe, Ed Smith!







Juniors: Upperclassmen — older — wiser — more mature

The Class of 1968 has had an eventful year. The advisors, Mr. Norton, Mrs. Dempsey, Mr. Guinane, and Mr. Gray, have worked closely with the officers. They sponsored the annual Junior Prom and several fund raising projects.

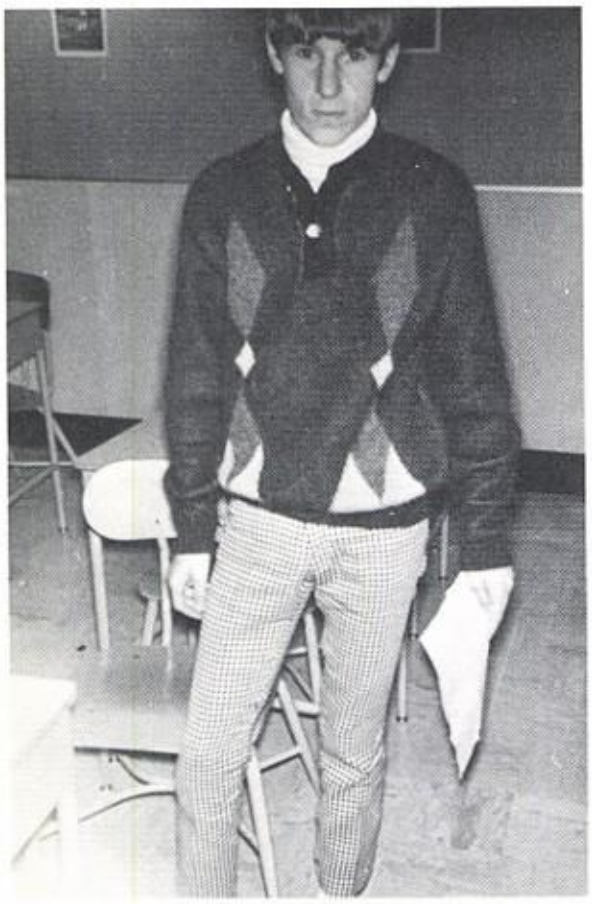
In February, thirty-six Juniors left for Albany on a field trip sponsored by the Social Studies Department. They spent two days there touring the capitol and seeing our legislature in action. Throughout the school, the Junior Class is well represented. Whether it's blowing up the chemistry lab, scoring high in a basketball game, marching in the band, or being on honor roll, a Junior is bound to be found.

Mike Hin, President

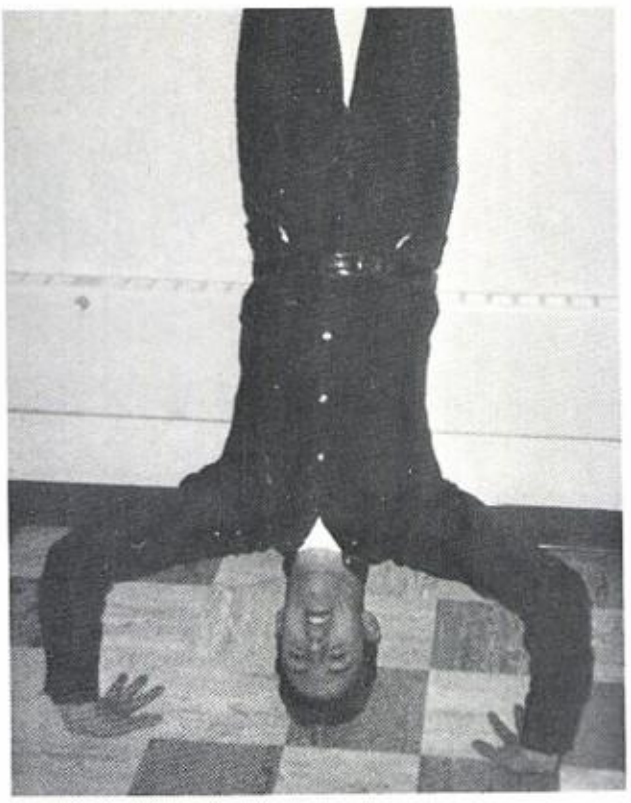
Anita Fagnan, Vice-President

Jim Moretti, Treasurer

Sandy Caruso, Secretary



Well, I got tired of wearing the same thing every day.



Come on Joe, hurry up and take the picture!

I wish I had done my homework.

Physical fitness . . . ho . . . hum.

Some people will bend over backwards to have their picture in the yearbook.

That does it. Tomorrow I eat my Wheaties.

Ugh! Look what's in my soup!

Sophomores: running down the halls —

When the Sophomore Class entered school in September, they were dupes, easy prey to the friendly jokes of upperclassmen. But the Class of '69, while learning Hornell High traditions, brought a new spirit to H.H.S. This spirit was one of service and of action. The sophomores supervised a canned goods drive for the poor of the community at Christmas time and conducted many successful bake-sales. They sold sweat shirts to raise money for their projects and to boost school spirit. The "hot shot" sophomores also participated actively in school activities. There were sophomore members of many clubs and they became a vital part of our school. Members of the class of '69 matured greatly. One of the reasons that this was so was the guidance of the fine advisors, Mr. Teta, Miss Neild, Mr. Moscowitz, and Mrs. Gliesche.

The Sophomore Class officers reflected the lively spirit of their class.

Liz Arcangeli . . . . . Secretary

John Pullman . . . . . Treasurer

Pat Hallenbeck . . . . . President

Sue Huffsmith . . . . . Vice President

Hey, Smile I think we are having our picture taken.

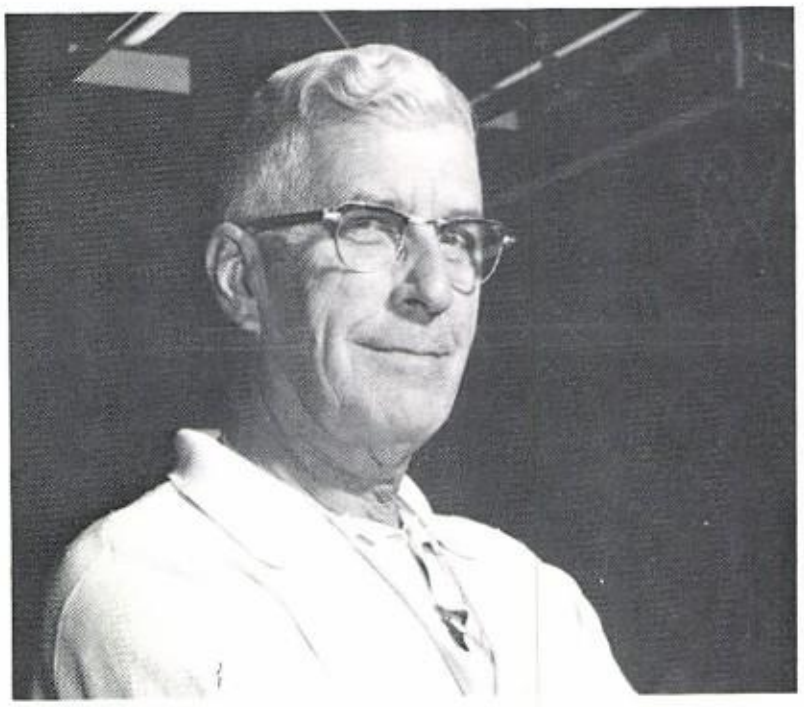
NO wait Miss Van Gelder, I'll get those corrections in tomorrow, I promise.

How do you open this #*@% case?

But I don't want any more water, Mommy.

And to think that last year I was an upperclassman!

Can't saw it, Farm.



Think you're pretty big, don't you?

Student Council

In past years the Student Council has taken a greater and greater roll in student activities. This year the Council made its funds available to various clubs and needs. It gave the band one thousand dollars to help finance new uniforms, it gave the cheerleaders money to decorate for homecoming, it aided the National Honor Society, Maple Leaf, Rifle Club and many others. It also helped to support the two exchange programs in our school, the AFS and International Fellowship. At the end of last year the Council was in debt after sending three Hornell students on summer exchange programs and after an unsuccessful magazine sale. This year the council began an ambitious and highly successful magazine campaign which reached the eight thousand dollar mark, the highest ever reached in any H.H.S. sale. With a working treasury of three thousand five hundred dollars, the council is looking into other projects outside the school, such as the two school Peace Corps project in which the Student Council would finance a school in an underdeveloped country.

However, the Student Council is more than a money raising and money spending organization. Its main function is and has been to act as a representative of the students. It has joined the Student Council Association of N.Y.S., sent delegates to the annual Student Council Conference at Alfred, the Hornell Youth Council, and the meeting of area youth groups. It has also organized an exchange student committee. Realizing the need for a better assembly program, the Council helped to bring many fine films such as Raisin in the Sun, and Arsenic and Old Lace to our school.

A Student Council can have advisors and it can have members, but in order to operate efficiently a Student Council must have a good leader. We had one this year.

Wilma Miller, secretary of the Student Council, also headed the Magazine Sale committee and helped to make it the success it was.

National Honor Society

Everyone agrees that one of the year's most impressive ceremonies is the National Honor Society tapping. At this candlelight assembly, new members are inducted into the society. Members are selected by the faculty on a four point basis. They are judged on character, service, leadership and scholarship. To be chosen, Juniors must have an 85 average, and Seniors an 80 average. This year 37 students were inducted with Wilma Miller and Marguerite Walker as ranking Senior and Junior.

Foreign Exchange Students . . . Junior Ambassadors

A little bit of the world came to Hornell this year in the form of two foreign exchange students, Ron Ball from Rhodesia and Luis Boada from Columbia. In July, Ron Ball, our AFS student arrived in Hornell and met his new family, the Grimms. Amazingly, he looked just like us and better yet he spoke our language or was that "the Queen's English"?? It didn't take long for Ron to become Americanized or for H.H.S. to become pro-Ron.

Luis Boada, our International fellowship student, arrived in November and stayed until the end of his "summer vacation". By the end of two months his Spanish accent was a familiar sound in the halls of H.H.S.

This year, too, a part of Hornell was sent to the world in the form of three students from H.H.S.: Julie Hallenbeck to Switzerland, Kris Rohver to Holland, and Shirley LaPiana to Peru.

This year, for the first time in many years, our school newspaper, the Volcano, was an active organization. Through the efforts of the ambitious editors, there were several issues published throughout the year. In order to raise money, so that the school might continue to have a newspaper, the staff sponsored a sale of school pins.

Girls' Hi-Y

Under the leadership of Mrs. Marjorie Hedden, the Beta Chi Chapter of the Girls' Hi-Y has been extremely active. The girls who at present make up the membership of the club are seniors and sophomores. The object of the club is to create, maintain and extend good Christian living throughout the community. The activities this year have included donating a membership to the YMCA for a needy girl during Christmas time as well as sending a Christmas basket and decorating the Y. A service project for Viet Nam is planned for the near future.

This year the club has formed a new chapter. The recently organized chapter, Omega Upsilon, is made up of both Junior and Sophomore girls. Though the group is just beginning this year, it has already finished a service project to Viet Nam. With the help of their temporary leader, Mrs. Hedden, the chapter hopes to flourish.

Future Nurses

Many of the members help in the school nurse's office.

One of the problems in choosing a career is gaining a complete understanding of all its aspects. For any girl wishing to enter the field of medicine, the Future Nurses is the answer. It is open to any girl with an 80 average who is recommended by Mr. Guianane or Miss Dickinson.

This year the members made a Thanksgiving basket and Christmas stockings for a needy family. To raise money, the club sold shakers at football games.

Much of the Future Nurses success is due to their advisor, Mrs. Gray.

Future Teachers

Members of the Future Teachers Club are Juniors and Seniors who wish to enter the teaching profession. They must maintain an 80 average and receive a favorable vote from the members.

Movies, speakers, panel discussions, and subcadetting helped the students to understand their chosen field. In the spring members attended the annual conference of the Future Teachers.

Members listen to a panel discussion given by H.H.S. practice teachers.

Latin Club

The Latin Club's aim is to conduct activities during the year which will interest students in the Latin language. These activities are chosen so that the Latin Club members will have fun while learning about Latin. In December, new members were initiated into the Club. During the day, these students wore badges that stated "servus sum". ("I am a slave.") That night the Club members celebrated with a Saturnalia. Before the dinner, the officers participated in a candle lighting ceremony in Saturn's honor. A skit was presented by the boys in the Cicero class who took the parts of Roman slaves. To further add to the interest in Latin, each member used a Latin name.

German Club

In the German language, the word Kunterbunde means all mixed up and thrown together. This is probably the best word to describe the German Club. The meetings have an easy going manner and are very informal. Any student can join providing, of course, that he or she is taking German. The main purpose of the club is to further the students' interest in German and under Mrs. Gliesche's guidance the club has had a successful year.

One of the features during the year was a five-part movie. Every now and then someone could be heard commenting on "Emil und die Detective." However, only the German students knew what this meant. The Christmas party, Weihnacten, was one of the times that will not be forgotten. It was a festive occasion with a Christmas centerpiece in the German style. Everyone gathered to decorate the old-fashioned tree and to sing Christmas carols. Luis, our Columbian exchange student, was the guest of honor. The arrival of Saint Nicholas, who distributed the presents, highlighted the evening.

Maple Leaf

Little can be said about the work of the yearbook for it lies in front of you, and only you yourself can estimate the work behind it. This year the Maple Leaf staff was opened to anyone interested. Although "confusion" is the best word to describe entire staff meetings, the larger and less select staff proved a valuable asset. The major part of the planning and carrying through of these plans falls upon the editors. Late hours, much thought, and time is required of these four in the making of a successful yearbook.

Girls' Service Club

The Girls' Service Club is dedicated to serving others and during the year it carries out many worthwhile projects.

Girls chosen for membership must have an average of eighty or above and must be accepted by a vote of the members. Each spring, ten juniors and ten sophomores are invited to join and are initiated at a candlelight ceremony.

Under the guidance of Miss Margaret Neild, advisor, the girls have completed many projects this year. At Thanksgiving, they filled a basket which was donated to a needy family; and at Christmas they bought and decorated a tree which was set up in the Clancy Nursing Home. Along with these, they also contributed to many worthy causes.

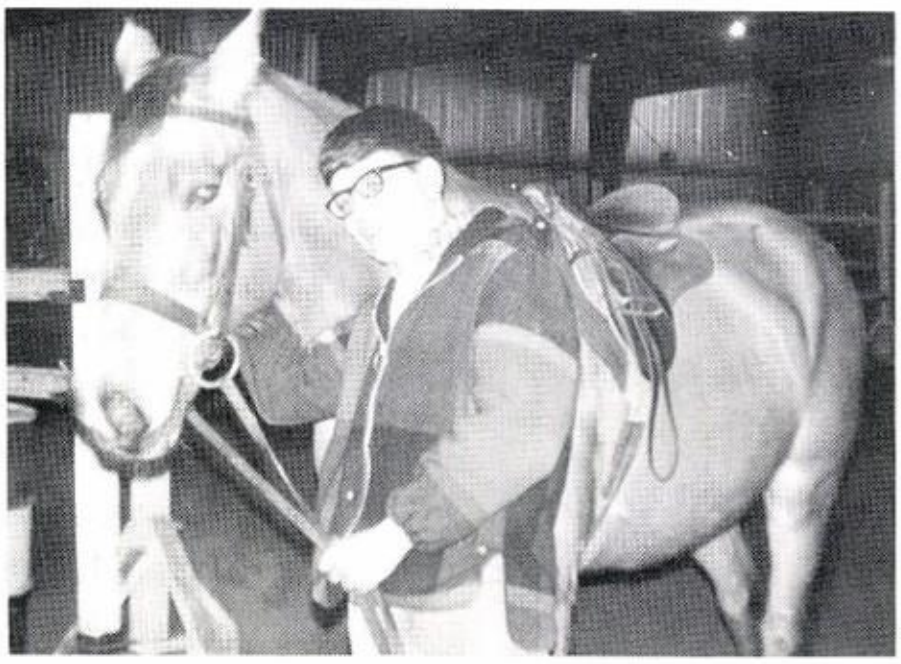
Riding Club

The riding club has been in existence for only one year, but has proved to be one of the most active clubs in school. Every other bake sale seemed to be riding club sponsored and announcements for Saturday riding at Brentwood Camp were heard weekly over the P.A. Saturdays at Brentwood were exciting experiences for beginning and accomplished equestrians. A club member may take a riding lesson, go on a trail ride or just practice. Winter snow and ice did not hinder club activities for the indoor ring at Brentwood made weather an unimportant factor. Already several of the equestrians have participated in Brentwood horse shows and for those who were not as proficient there were horse shows to go to and watch. The club has a club within the club know infamously as the "Groundhog Club". All members who become unsaddled are honorary members. One of the highlights of the year was when Mrs. Lester, the club advisor joined the club. Planned in the future are spring picnics and more trail rides.



Maverick eyes Chuck Spitulnik suspiciously.

Audio-Visual Club

At the beginning of the year, getting a record player, tape recorder or projector for a specific period involved an all-out search which usually ended with a frantic attempt to make the machine work. Then one day an order was issued that all audio visual machinery was to be sent to the office. This was the humble beginnings of our new audio visual club. The club was abandoned in 1962 when the high school moved from the old building and has just been reorganized under the direction of Mr. Durso. Each period, one of the members is in the room off the rotunda ready to help a student or a teacher. At the moment, they are trying to arrange a better way of presenting movies at assemblies.

The main purpose of the club is to promote and raise the standards of education through the use of audio-visual aids and to present career possibilities available to students by their membership.

The DECA Club stands for Distributive Education Clubs of America. It is both a state and national organization. The main project of the club this year was to attend and participate in the DECA Conference at the Concord Hotel, near New York City in March.

This past year at school, the club has sponsored dances after basketball games and has had bake sales. The club also decorated the caboose for Santa Claus at Christmas time. Mr. Coyle, the club advisor, has spent much of his time and effort in helping the club plan all its activities, especially for the trip to Concord.

Membership in the Business Club is limited to students who are taking business subjects. The chief interest of the club is to try to promote student interest in the business world, and also in the study of business subjects. Methods of accomplishing this aim include field trips to out-of-town businesses and colleges, and guest speakers.

This year the club has taken trips—one to Broome Tech. in Binghamton in November; one to R.B.I. and one to Kodak. At the end of the year, there was a banquet with a featured speaker.

Modern Music Masters

Chapter 873 of the Modern Music Masters, the National Music Honor Society, was formed in H.H.S. last year. The selection of students for membership is strictly on a merit basis. Ability and scholarship in both music and academic subjects, cooperation with teachers and fellow students, leadership and service are basic requirements. The students were selected by the music faculty, sponsors and the student officers of the chapter. The students were "apprentice" members for two weeks. During these two weeks, they were instructed in the aims, purposes and ideals of the Society and assigned duties by the Chapter. Upon completing these assignments, these "apprentices" were inducted into the Society as active Modern Music Masters at a formal initiation ceremony, which their parents attended. There were six members inducting the new members. At this induction, each student was presented with the Tri-M Key, official membership emblem, and the active membership card. The Key is symbolic of the opening of the door to musical knowledge. Bronze keys are given to approved apprentices by the national office of the Society.

The aims of the Modern Music Masters are to create a better musical interest in school and to give students a better opportunity to be in specialized music groups such as ensembles and trios. As Modern Music Masters, the members pledge to set a good example, and to continue to be of service through music, to their school, church and community.

Library Club

One of the most active service clubs in school is the Library Club. Its main purpose is to stimulate interest in the library. The members of the club assist Mrs. Hammond in her work by returning books and magazines to their proper places, taking slips to homerooms and study halls and working at the desk. Their work not only helps Mrs. Hammond, but everyone in school benefits from it. By working in the library, students learn how a library is run.

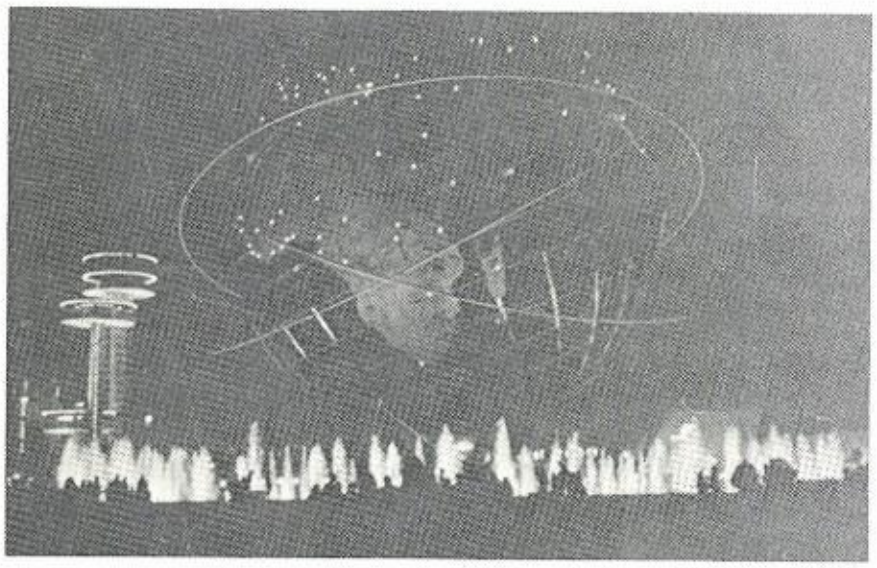
The Hornell Senior



The experience band seniors will remember most is the two days spent at the World's Fair in April of 1965.

The band started the year out with several successful half-time shows during football games. After marching in the mud and shivering in the cold, members were eager to work on fund raising projects for new uniforms. The Uniform Committee selected warm marching uniforms and very attractive concert uniforms which will be purchased next fall. A candy sale and a gigantic pizza sale were held to help cover the cost. The annual concert was given in February and in April the seventy band members left for Seaford, L.I. to conduct an exchange concert with the Seaford Band. Naturally, no one missed the chance to spend a day in New York. In May the Seaford Band came to Hornell, and the two bands presented a joint concert. It was a busy year for homeroom 142, but one thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Choir

The H.H.S. choir successfully carried out an ambitious program this year. Hornell found an excellent new director in Don Besig, who himself arranged most of the music sung by the group. Mr. Besig achieved harmonious effect through careful coordination of talent. The choir presented a beautiful Christmas assembly and concert and musical, "The Sound of Music," presented in the spring. Jennifer Graham, Laurie Brutsman, Alice Sheely, Beverly Brown, Jim Gessner, Allan Fitzpatrick, Arden Wellington and Don Rice represented Hornell at the all-state chorus festival held at Bath.

Christmas is a time for joy!

Varsity Swingers

Six girls and eleven boys made extracurricular singing a delight for many area residents and groups. Besides performing with the choir, they sparked many banquets and Rotary, Eastern Star, and PTA gatherings. They are presently receiving donations for sweaters and jumpers, which will add classy appearance to their already classy sound.

All girls at some time dream of becoming a majorette with tall white boots, a "twirly" skirt and a baton, but dreaming of being one and being one are two different things—ask any one of our four majorettes. They'll tell you that being a majorette is far from glamorous. There are hours of practice and preparation. This year the majorettes, after attending a one week seminar for majorettes in the Poconoes, have provided original and difficult routines. Among these was the fire baton act which thrilled spectators at fall football games this year.

Drum Major Tom Loree's 6'5"'s makes him easy to spot when he leads the band on the football field or down the street.

Rifle Club

Every Monday and Wednesday nights, rifle shots may be heard coming from the direction of the stadium. No, it's not Mr. Castiglione making his team work out. It's only the rifle club firing on their self-made range above the concession stand. At one time used for storage, it has now been converted into a firing range complete with a steel plate donated by the Erie Lackawanna and firing mats and target carriers paid for with money earned by working in the concession stand.

Under the direction of Mr. Straight and Mr. Spencer, the club competes in "mail" contests. By sending their names into the National Rifle Association they may compete with four hundred other schools.

Horizon

The purpose of Horizon Clubs is to serve the community and the country in the best way possible. At different times during the year, such as Christmas and Easter, Horizon clubs give baskets of food, clothing, and toys to needy families in and around the area. Just recently, many letters have been written to our soldiers in Viet Nam, and small necessities sent to them.

Clubs

Horizon Clubs are an outlet of the Camp Fire Girls, who have been in existence since 1910. Membership is open to any girl attending high school. Over 500,000 girls belong to this social group. Horizon Clubs have been serving their communities in numerous ways since their founding.

Varsity Club

The Varsity Club is an honorary society for the outstanding athletes and sportsmen of the school. The aim of the club is to further the ideals of good sportsmanship and to improve any sports activity. The Varsity Club also aims to uphold the high standards of the school and to cooperate in making a better community. But this year, the club translated these ideals into concrete actions. In order to be better able to carry out the purposes of the club, the members adopted a new constitution.

The Varsity Club members added to the enjoyment of the basketball games by ushering and by operating a concession stand. This year, the club conducted a talent show in which the students of H.H.S. could express their many abilities. All of the proceeds from the show were donated to the March of Dimes. The club also sponsored a game with the Harlem Astronauts, which was greatly enjoyed. This year they were under the excellent guidance of Mr. Teta and Varsity Club certainly lived up to all of its ideals.

Artisans' Club

The main objectives of the Artisans' Club are to develop a greater appreciation of art through study and application of art principles, the securing of exhibits that will benefit the entire school, the preservation of the work of former Hornell High students who have entered the field of art as a vocation and the keeping of records of these students. Certainly, the Artisans' Club has lived up to its objectives this year. They undertook the publication of the booklet, "Arts and Artists" which lists the names of students who have graduated from H.H.S. and have become professional in some art field. The booklet has been placed in the Guidance Office for interested students. The club has also kept the display case in constant use with student art work or exhibits from other schools or Alfred. The Artisans' Club's decorations and willingness to help other clubs with posters and signs has made it a vital part of H.H.S.

One of the newest clubs in school is Mu Alpha Theta, commonly called the Math Club. It was organized last May by Mr. Peltz, and already received its charter and initiated sixteen members at the end of the year.

The Math Club is open to any student who has studied Mathematics for five semesters. An Associate Member is admitted after three semesters. Prospective members must have an average of 80. This year the club entered fifteen students in the Society of Actuaries contest examination.

Snow — the answer to a skier's dream, but ooohhhh those snowballs!!

Ski Club

The ski craze hit the United States this year and it was no more in evidence than in our own school. Stretch pants, ski boots and long underwear were no longer aliens on school grounds. Every week when snow fell the ski club took to the slopes at Bristol Mountain near Loon Lake. Bristol Mountain offered slopes to challenge the expert and the beginner. These ski enthusiasts eventually congealed into a new club. Although begun late in the year, next year we'll see many pre-ski season bake sales to help finance their trips. Much credit for the formation of this club must be given to Mr. Hartman who organized and arranged this year's trips.

Hornell High School and the community as a whole watched its football team make a stirring comeback in the autumn of 1966. Psychologically at a disadvantage after losing practically every game for three straight years, the Red Raiders finished strong.

After losing to an experienced Bradford team by one point, and to Elmira Southside, Sullivan Trail Champions, by a touchdown, the next week, the Raiders stayed on their feet. The respect they gained for playing hard in these games was confirmed at Batavia, where an eleven-game losing streak was broken with a 12-6 win over the Blue Devils. Corning West and Wellsville also tasted defeat when they met Hornell, losing by decisive scores of 18-7 and 26-0. Congratulations, Red Raiders.

JV Football

With a squad composed mainly of sophomores, this year's JV team compiled a record of 4-4. This speaks well for them, as they were matched with many stiff opponents. Bath, Dansville, and Wellsville all bowed to the Junior Varsity Raiders, but probably most significant was a win over Corning East. The team showed depth, talent, and promise, and, should they continue in their winning ways, will be a strong Sullivan Trail contender.

Cross Country

When Coach McShane started cross country in Hornell two years ago, he didn't expect to win a meet for five years. However, this fall the team won two meets, pleasantly surprising all who followed the sport. Consistent high-placers were Tom Broderick and Pete Olds, backed up by a host of promising sophomores and juniors. The sport itself is not a glamorous one, so it attracts only devoted athletes. The entire team deserves praise for its fine drive and spirit.

Soccer

Soccer this year was somewhat disheartening, as the boys fought in vain for a single win. After a 3-3 tie with Addison, they lost by close scores to Avoca, Addison, Hammondsport, and Wayland. Foreign exchange student Ron Ball, Jim Hunt, and Mark Huffsmith were strong scorers for Hornell. As relatively few seniors will be lost, hopes are high for success in the near future.

As the current season nears an end, much can be said about the efforts of a small but hard-working team. The Raiders, with the return of such veterans as Bob Ellis, Sam Nesbit, Ron Byron, and Leroy Lewis, won consistently in the lower and middle weight classes. However, a lack of experience in the heavier weight classes led to disappointing team defeats. There were individual standouts, though, as Ron Byron won 1st and Bob Ellis 2nd in the WCWC finals. The excellent coaching of two new men, David Thomasi and Jack Leasure, and the return of a strong nucleus, point to better things in '68. Anticipating success, Coach Thomasi adds a note of encouragement to lower classmen: "There's room for you."

So far this season, Hornell's loop picture has been somewhat different from what it was hoped to be. With a rash of talent from last year's JV and Varsity juniors, the Raiders have suffered disheartening setbacks, often losing by close margins. Many will remember the close Batavia and Bath games, and the rare 49-23 contest with Elmira and Southside. (4-0 at the end of the first quarter.)

Joe Foreman reverts to quarterback tactics in the Corning West game.

JV Basketball

Friday basketball nights wouldn't have been complete without the spirited performances of the Junior Varsity Red Raiders.

Although composed entirely of sophomores, the team showed surprising depth; more than one game was won by second-string points. We hope the fine efforts Coach Norton's team has extended will result in continued success, and rest assured that they will be an asset as future varsity players.

Varsity Swimming

This years swimming team was one of the best Hornell has ever had. Close scores and outstanding performances marked each meet. Although Hornell has won only two out of the meets held so far; the remainder of the swimming season promises many more wins.

A significant factor in this years team has been the coaching of Mr. MacNamara and Mr. Hall, both Junior High School teachers who have a sincere interest in bringing "big time" swimming to the Southern Tier. The combination of good coaching and good swimmer potential has produced several outstanding performances. Each meet showed marked improvement by all the swimmers. There was more to this swimming year than just those moments of glory at meets. There were those grueling practices, inter-squad meets, those two water nymphs??? who used to beat us at the beginning of the season and the Co-captains (Denny O'Brien and Chuck Beyer) torso twisting exercises. This year three valuable Seniors will be lost—Denny O'Brien, Chuck Beyer, and Ed Rawady; but the team is essentially a "young" team consisting mainly of Freshmen and thus promises even better years to come.

"Oh we're from H.H.S. and no one could be prouder, and if you cannot hear us then we'll yell a little louder." The Varsity Cheerleaders did yell louder and longer at pep rallies, bonfires, and parades. Waging a campaign against lagging school spirit, they staged pep rallies, painted signs and organized a pep club.

Unforgettable was the pep rally where cheerleaders and players changed places—the football players in skirts and the cheerleaders with shoulder pads. Alive with energy and pep, this year's Varsity Cheerleaders helped make 1967 a year of renewed school spirit.

Who were those smiling, shorts-clad girls selling programs at football games? The JV cheerleaders of course! Football games weren't the only place where they could be found. Baseball

Under the coaching of John Moscowitz the baseball Red Raiders finished the '66 season with a 6-7 record. Many games were dropped by one run, but nonetheless the strong hitting of Lou Briganti, Dan Bishop, Steve Kays, Tony Guarglia, and Mike Northrup often proved the winning factor. A high point was the second Corning East game, which the Raiders won (8-7) and paraded triumphantly through downtown Hornell.

With lettermen Dave Hagadorn, Dan Swift, Kevin Cregan, Jim Moretti, and Mark Whitman returning, prospects for a good '67 season are bright.

Track

The 1966 track and field picture was a colorful one. Hornell boasted talent and depth in many areas. John Nelson piled up the most points for the Raiders, winning consistently on the broad and triple jumps. Jerry White proved himself in the hurdles, Bill Johnson on the 440, and Pete Conway and Bill McHale in the pole vault. Pete Conway broke the Hornell pole vault record with a vault of 11'10". John Nelson broke the triple jump record at the Wellsville Spring Day Meet.

Although much talent was lost through graduation, the Raiders have returning mainstays in Kevin Hogan in the 880, Bob Ellis in the hurdles, and Kevin McLaughlin on the shotput.

Midnight in Rome

On November 25, the annual Junior Prom was held in the Cafeteria. Miss Mary Galatio was chosen Queen and her escort, Ronnie Lockwood, was crowned King. Members of the court included Kathy Gray, escorted by Chuck Kellog, and Miss Judy Brink, escorted by Paul Grimm..

Decorations in a Roman motif featured a fountain in the center surrounded by pillars, a gold statue of Mercury, and a silver fountain. One wall featured a mural of ancient Roman ruins. Keeping with the theme there was a clock, enhanced with deep and light purple flowers with the hands pointing towards midnight. The curtains were covered with stars also adding to the effect. Music was provided by Al Rawady and his orchestra, and Angelo Daniels was the soloist.

Mary Galatio cries tears of joy as she and her escort are chosen as the royal couple.

Anita Fagnan and her committee put in many long hours to make the Prom a success.

Christmas — A Time for Joy!

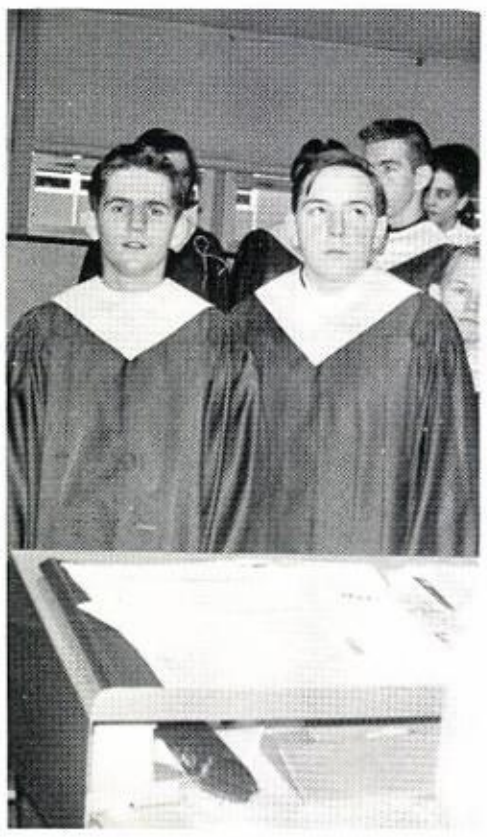
Never before has the Christmas spirit been so much in evidence as this year at Hornell High. On December 7th the student body was greeted with a Christmas tree in the rotunda. Using the prize money from the magazine sale, Mr. Peltz's homeroom engineered the task of setting up and decorating the tree. This touch of the holidays was greatly appreciated by both faculty and student body.

Certainly one of the most worthwhile projects of the season was the Sophomore Class' annual canned goods drive. This drive, conducted throughout the school was aimed at helping the Salvation Army provide a Merry Christmas for many.

This year the Latin Club revived the ancient Roman feast of the Saturnalia. At the party held in school on December 19th, the members, dressed in Roman costume, had an enjoyable time.

Another party held in school at this time was the German Club party. Food was provided by the members and much of it was from German recipes. The most impressive part of the evening was the German Christmas tree, decorated in the old-fashioned manner.

One of the most enjoyable events of the holidays was the Christmas program presented by the choir. Under the excellent direction of Mr. Besig, they gave enjoyment to both the student body and the public in the concerts they presented. Truly, this year, Christmas was a time for joy.



Top l. The German Club celebrated a traditional Christmas with a smorgasbord supper, Christmas tree and German Christmas carols.

Top r. Long before Christmas the Romans celebrated the feast of Saturnalia. The Latin Club continues this tradition in 1966.

Center. Mr. Peltz's homeroom displays the spirit of Christmas by donating and decorating a Christmas tree for the rotunda.

Bottom l. Pat Hallenbeck and Liz Arcangeli, Sophomore officers, with the food their class collected for the Salvation Army.

Bottom r. Arden Wellington and Terry Bertram were two soloists in the annual Choir Christmas concert.

January 18 — A Time for Praise.

ALL things have their season: and in their times pass under heaven. A time to be born, and a time to die. A time to plant, and a time to pluck up what has been planted. A time to kill, and a time to heal. A time to destroy, and a time to build. A time to weep, and a time to laugh. A time to mourn, and a time to dance. A time to scatter stones, and a time to gather. A time to embrace, and a time to keep far away from embraces. A time to get, and a time to lose. A time to keep, and a time to cast away. A time to rend, and a time to sow. A time to keep silent, and a time to speak. A time of love, and a time of hatred. A time of war, and a time of peace.

For those inducted into the National Honor Society, January 18 was a time for praise.

Center: Joe Pullman, President of the Society; Krissy Rohver, Vice-President; and Dr. Berstein, the guest speaker; congratulate the ranking Senior, Wilma Miller, and the ranking Junior, Marguerite Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Corbett, parents of Marcia Corbett, enjoy refreshments at the reception following the induction.

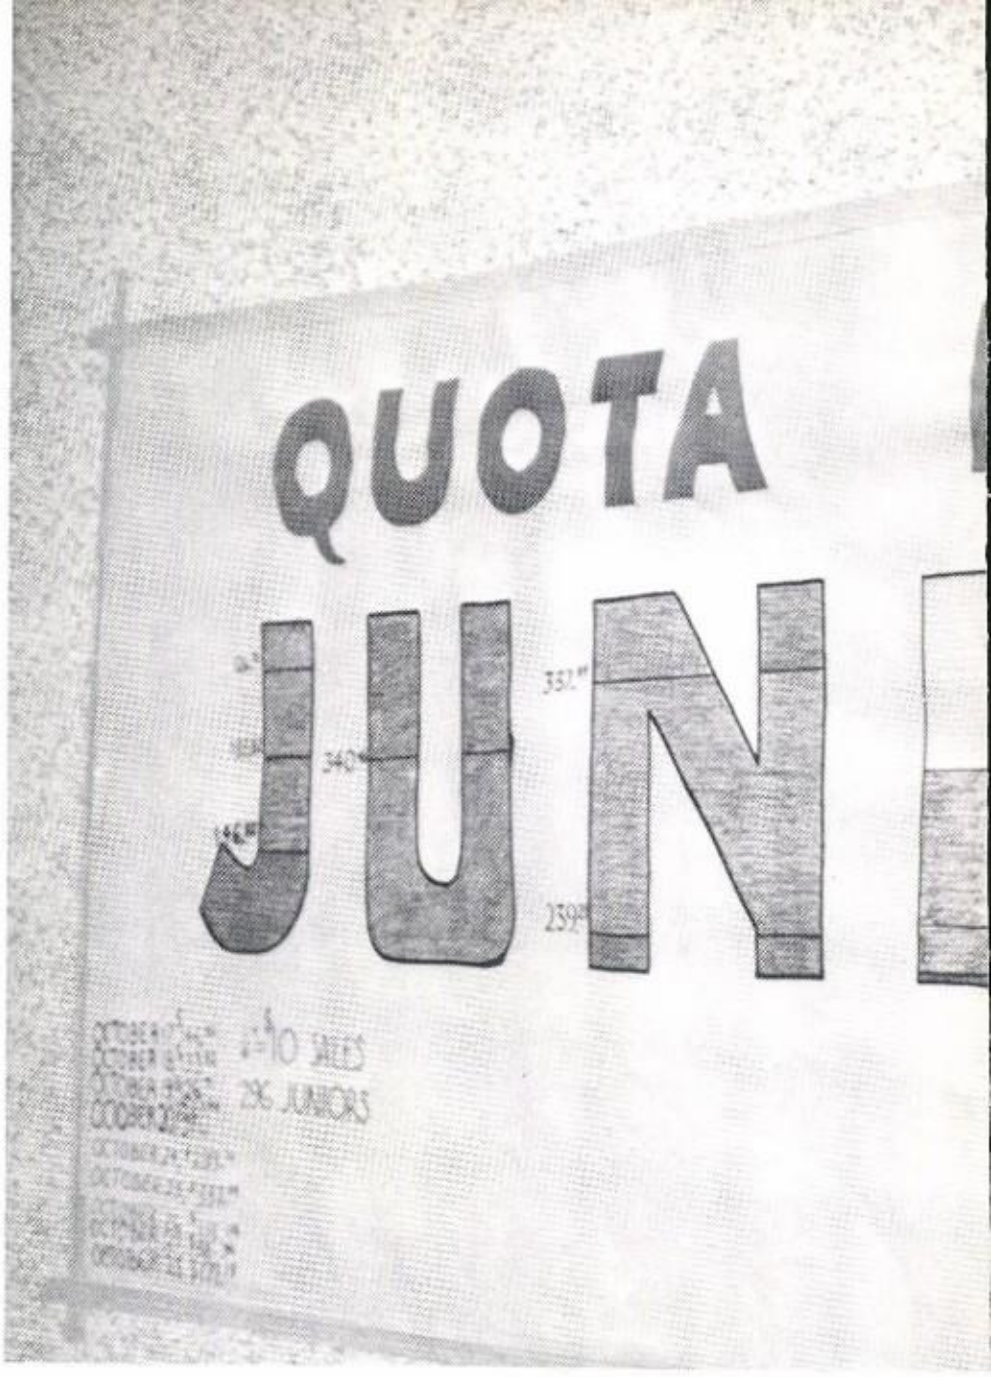
Proud parent, Mr. Mosher, pins the HONOR Society pin on his daughter.

Magazine Sale:
greatest in H.H.S. history

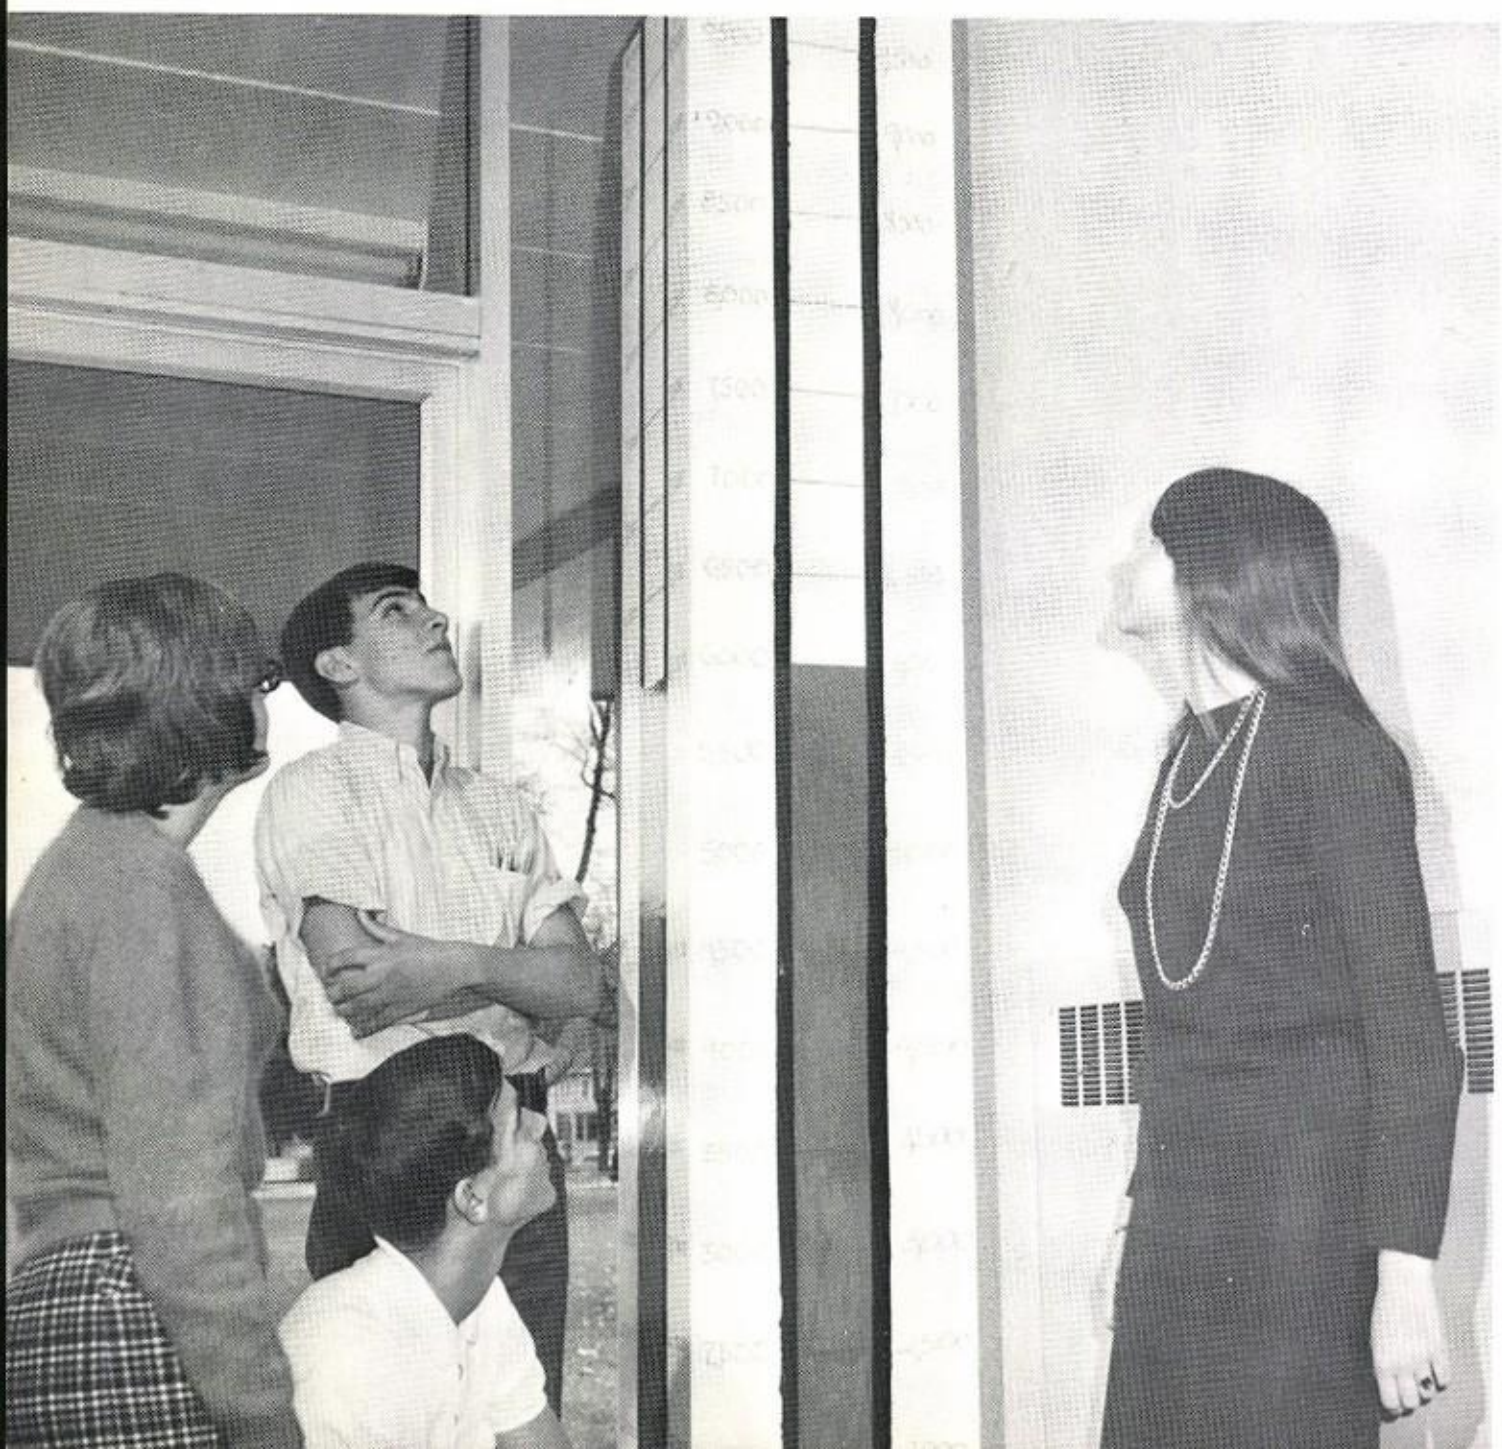
School spirit was demonstrated most dramatically by this year's magazine campaign. Hornell High's magazine sale was the greatest in the three year history of the campaign. At the end of the sales, over eight thousand dollars was brought in, giving the student council close to three thousand five hundred dollars. The increase in total sales from the previous year was an all time record for Western New York.

Planning for this year's magazine sale began in the early days of October with the selecting of a sales committee composed of Ed Smith, Maureen Amphlett, Wilma Miller, Nancy Damrath, Joyce Williams, Andy O'Connor and Joe Damrath. Each class had at least two student leaders and with the help of Mr. O'Neil, they mapped out plans for the campaign.

Friday, October 14, began the sale with an assembly and speech by Mr. O'Neil. At the beginning, the sale lagged but gradually it picked up until the final day brought in enough money to top the eight thousand mark. The fifteen day campaign was climaxed by an awards assembly with Miss America of 1964, Donna Axum, presenting the awards. Awards ranged from transistor radios to tickets to the Buffalo Bills game. There was a penny grab, stuffed animals and a kiss for Ed Smith. Fifty dollars prize money went to the high selling Seniors and Mr. Peltz's homeroom.

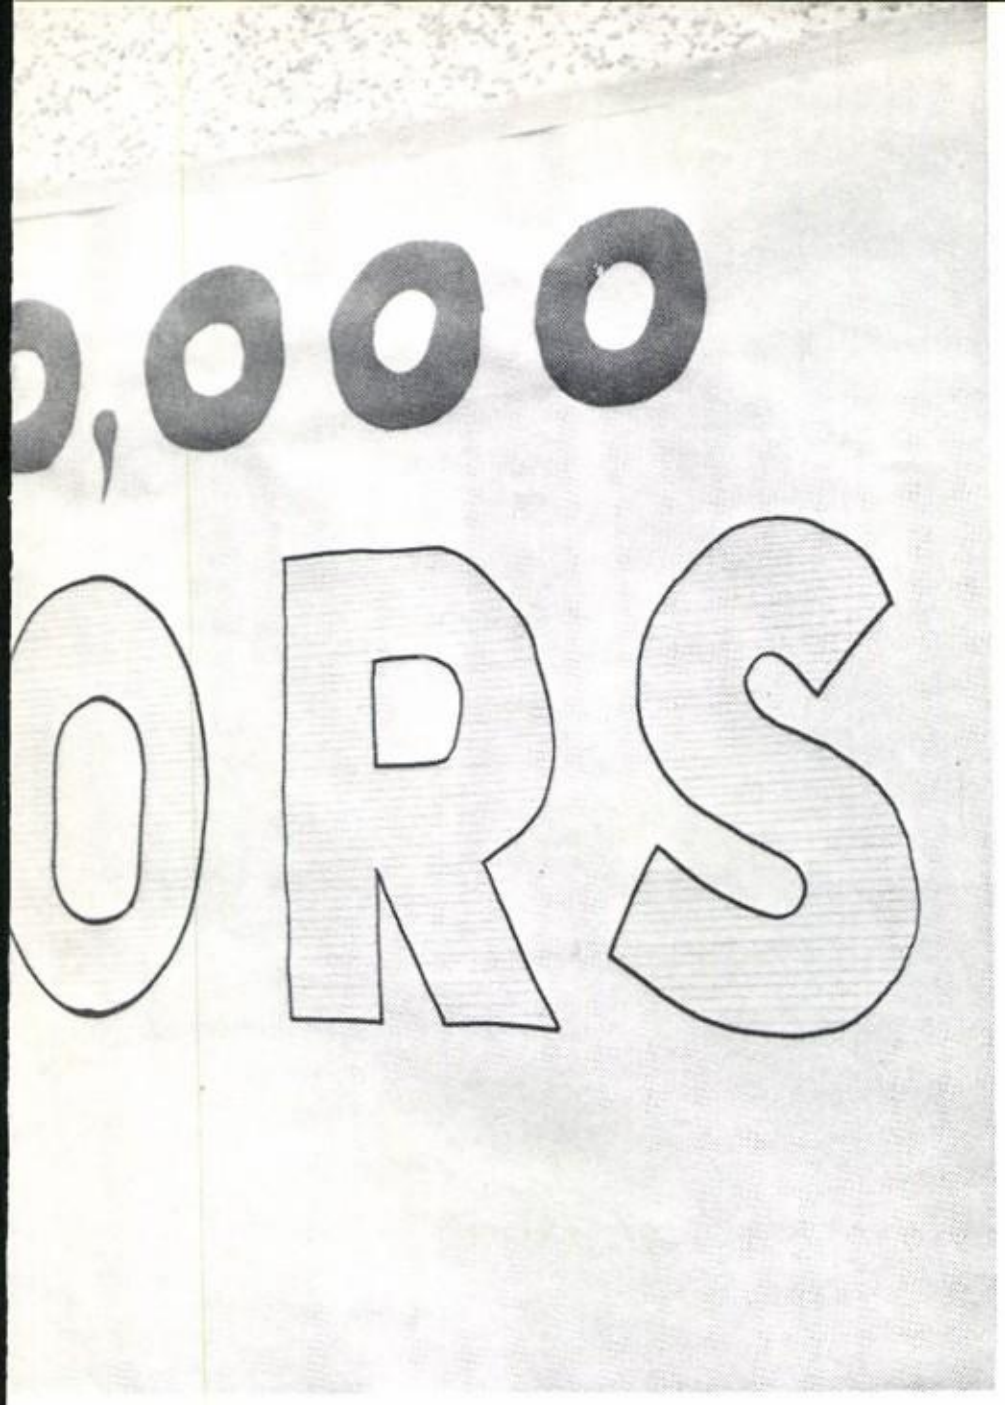


The ten thousand dollar goal stretches across the Junior quota sign.



Nancy Damrath, Liz Arcangeli, Paul Argentieri and Jerry Argentieri check the progress of the campaign on the "sales thermometer".

Miss America presents awards to Sue Olds, the highest salesgirl of the campaign and Kris Rohver, second highest salesgirl, while Ed Smith looks on.



Wilma Miller, Andy O'Connor, Maureen Amphlett, Joyce Williams, and Joe Damrath, members of the sales committee, measure the progress of the campaign.

Assemblies, socials and pep rallies . . .

Top center: In November the Alfred Choir under the direction of Mr. Anthony Cappadonia, entertained the student body with songs from "pop" to spiritual.

Lower left: Twelve young ladies from the Junior High School present "The Twelve Days of Christmas" at the annual Christmas assembly.

Right: John Sullivan and Sandy Root run through their parts in one of several plays presented by this year's drama class.

Pre-game warmup — a bonfire with lots of cheering.

Yeh, Bob we're taking your picture.

All you really need to dance today is guts and no inhibitions!
